WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The United States today addressed a sternly-worded formal note to protest to the Japanese government over the destruction of the U. S. gunboat Panay and three other American vessels by Japanese aircraft.

The note demanded three things:

1. A formal expression of regret.

2. Complete and comprehensive indemnities.

3. Guarantees that definite and specific steps be taken to assure protection henceforth of all American nationals and interests by Japan in China.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—President Roosevelt today determined upon a showdown with Japan on American rights in the far east.

In a direct demand upon Emperor Hirohito, the president insisted upon a cessation of unwarranted attacks on American and other neutral shipping by Japanese military and naval forces.

Fred Glenn, of Plaingrove, who is serving on the jury this week, reports to friends that during the hunting season, a sight that caused much excitement in this vicinity, was a group of five does standing together on his farm. One, the noted Albino, which was injured, and now recuperating to be placed on the game farm, was believed first seen on the Glenn farm. "It sure was a beauty" Glenn reports. Also, he states that they believed there was only one deer on the farm, but during the season, neighbors killed four. It is thought the animals were frightened out of other woods by hunters.

New Government Is Proclaimed

Ancient Peking Is Capital—Established Under Japanese Auspices

BEARS OUT PREVIOUS JAPANESE PROGRAM

By JOHN GOETTE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PEIPING, Dec. 14.—In the historic setting of Chu Jen Tang imperial palace in the forbidden city, a new government of China was proclaimed with the ancient Peking as its capital.

The old national five-color flag replaced the flag of the Nanking government and Tang Erh-Ho was appointed chairman of the new legislative commission.

Accepting his appointment, Tang said:

"The new government must first maintain peace and order at home. Then it must take thorough-going measures to ensure full understanding between the Chinese and Japanese peoples."

The proclamation announcing establishment of the new regime announced its aims as follows:

1. Abolition of one-party politics.
2. Absolute resistance against communism.
3. Promotion of friendly relations with neighboring countries and furtherance of Asiatic moral doctrines.
4. Development of industries.

Established under Japanese auspices, the proclamation bore out promises that a new regime would be established as soon as Nippon's troops captured Nanking, capital of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, whose position now becomes, from the point of view of authorities here, that of an "outlaw" ruler.

Britain Seeks To Prod U. S. Into Drastic Action

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONLON, Dec. 14—Britain launched its greatest propoganda campaign since the world war today to prod the United States into taking drastic action against Japan.

Government officials here are convinced that the present situation following attacks on British and American ships in China by Japanese planes, offers a rare opportunity for attempting to enlist American support in protecting British interests in China.

As a result, Britain launched a campaign in its entire press to emphasize upon the United States the "vital necessity for joint Anglo-American action" and to persuade the United States that Japanese apologies for the attacks on American vessels are "not enough."

The Press promised full British support for any action that President Roosevelt decides to take.

At the same time it was learned Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay was instructed to convey similar promises to Washington and diplomatically urge joint action.

He is to promise that Britain is prepared to strengthen her China squadron with capital ships if the

Hunt Maniac After Dual Crime In Home Near Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 14.—A maniac who lingered to take a bath in the mansion of Mrs. Wilma Carpenter after slaying the young society widow and attacking Miss Mary Griffin, was the subject of an eight-state search today.

The murder and attack occurred last night when the two women returned from a beauty shop to find Mrs. Carpenter's 12-room home in a fashionable suburb ransacked and a 20-year-old youth, gun in hand, waiting to receive them.

Promising not to hurt the women, the youth asked them to hand over all the money they had, which was a little more than two dollars.

Then he ordered them upstairs. He threw Miss Griffin, an attractive girl of 22, on a bed and ordered Mrs. Carpenter to tie her down with clothes line.

After Miss Griffin had been tied down, she moved slightly and the intruder promptly struck her on the head with the butt of the gun.

She recovered consciousness to find herself unclothed and attacked.

Murderer Takes Bath

Mrs. Carpenter lay on the floor, blood running from a wound in her head. And in the bathroom, the murderer was calmly taking a bath.

After he had finished he unloosed her bonds and led her to the bathroom where he carefully bathed her bruised head.

Then he re-tied her to the bed and left.

As soon as she could free herself,

Continued improvement which, while slow, is very satisfactory, was noted this afternoon in the condition of Judge James A. Chambers of Sumner avenue, who was stricken suddenly with appendicitis last Friday, necessitating an emergency operation at 1 o'clock Saturday morning.

BRITISH GUNBOAT CARRIES SURVIVORS

Many Of Those Located By Searching Vessels Are Reported Wounded

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Dec. 14.—Searching along the marshy banks of the Yangtze river, near Hoshien, the British gunboat Bee today found still more survivors from the sunken American gunboat Panay and three Standard-Vacuum Oil Company vessels destroyed by bombs from diving Japanese planes.

Dispatches radioed here from the scene of the attack on the vessels were fragmentary and conflicting, but it appeared more than four score persons—most of them Chinese members of the oil ships' crews—were still unaccounted for.

Five Attacks

The first message received here of the attack on the American vessels revealed that the Panay was subjected to five attacks by Japanese planes, and that it took ninety minutes to sink.

The Bee sent a message stating it had found a "group of survivors" on Hanshan Island, inland from Hoshien, where many of the Panay's survivors had been taken following their rescue when the Panay was sent to the bottom.

Meanwhile, the United States gunboat Oahu arrived at Hoshien from Wuhu and departed almost immediately for Hanshan to assist the Bee.

The Bee advised that two dead victims of the Japanese attack were

Believe Chinese Troops Trapped At Nanking

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Dec. 14.—Thousands of Chinese "dare-to-die" troops who remained in Nanking to harry Nippon's victorious forces were believed to have been trapped today in a vise from which there is no escape but death.

Meanwhile, the Japanese, in full possession of all important strongholds, government buildings and other strategic points of the abandoned Chinese capital, kept on with a "mopping up" drive that added to the hundreds of piles of Chinese bodies littering the streets.

Advices from Hankow said the Chinese had admitted the collapse of their resistance at Nanking as well as the fall of Pukow, across the river, claiming their main body of troops had retreated and was now concentrating at Pucheng to the north.

A Japanese army spokesman here said the Chinese troops who managed to escape from Nanking were now fleeing up the river, setting fire to everything in their path.

Nanking was described as surrounded by clouds of smoke, which hung like a pall over the ruins of the once-beautiful city, large parts of which now are nothing but "scorched earth."

District Attorney Ailey Says Death Penalty Will Be Asked By Prosecution

POLICE OFFICERS FIRST WITNESSES

Commonwealth May Conclude Presentation Of Testimony This Afternoon

Asking that the death penalty be brought in as a verdict against Mrs. Rose Donofrio for the shooting of her son-in-law, James Aiello, District Attorney Mont L. Ailey today opened the case of the commonwealth against Mrs. Donofrio. The case is on trial in court room number one of the Lawrence County court house, before Judge W. Walter Braham.

Mr. Ailey reviewed briefly the facts surrounding the fatal shooting of Aiello on the night of September 10 in front of the Donofrio home on South First street in the Seventh ward, and the commonwealth would prove the murder was premeditated and that at the conclusion of the case the commonwealth would ask for the death penalty.

Basic Witnesses

All of the testimony in the morning session was basic, establishing the death of James Aiello and the arrest of Mrs. Donofrio. Harold Marshall, funeral director of Wampum was called and testified that he had taken the body of James Aiello to the New Castle hospital on September 10, and later had prepared the body for burial and had buried it.

Dr. David Perry testified to being called to the New Castle hospital on the night of September 10 and found James Aiello dead. He performed an autopsy and found that death had resulted from a bullet passing through the ventricles of the heart. Dr. Samuel Perry testified similarly.

Coroner Orville Potter testified that he had been called in the case and had conducted an inquest. Police Sergeant James D. Steiner test-

'Buried Treasure' Figures In Trial

False Pretense Is Charged In Buried Treasure Case In Court

CLAIM DEFENDANT WAS TO LOCATE SITE

Rev. T. Dollar, alias Teddy Deem, was placed on trial before Judge Lee A. McCracken of Venango county, at Lawrence county court this morning on a charge of false pretense, in which it was alleged that he had represented that he could find buried treasure on the Miller farm in Beaver county. It is claimed that he secured $119 from Mrs. Ida McCurdy and $100 from Elmer J. Miller, heirs of the Miller estate, through his representations.

Mrs. McCurdy, who was the first witness called, said that she had understood that Deem claimed to be able to read the future, and that she believed that he possessed some supernatural powers. She was led to the belief partly on the grounds that he seemed to be familiar with the sixth and seventh books of Moses, which are not very well understood by other people.

She had first gone to Rev. Deem to get a private reading. He had assumed to tell her something about her family, most of which was incorrect, but she was principally interested when he told her that there was buried treasure on the Miller farm in Beaver county, where she was reared.

Questioned as to whether or not she had informed Rev. Deem anything about this supposed treasure, Mrs. McCurdy was somewhat evasive, saying that she had not, but that Deem seemed to know about it. In reply to questions as to whether

Japan Says Steps Taken To Prevent Repetition Of Attacks On U. S. Ships

By JAMES R. YOUNG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Dec. 14.—Completely acceding to American demands, the Japanese government today informed the United States embassy that steps already have been taken to prevent repetition of attacks such as the bombing of the gunboat Panay.

Apologies were repeated in a memorandum delivered by the foreign office to the British and American ambassadors. The note to Britain expressed regrets a second time over last week's attack on the Ladybird.

Promises Indemnity

Full indemnity, as called for in American and British protests, was promised in both cases.

Still unaware that President Roosevelt had specifically asked that his "shock" over sinking of the Panay be conveyed to Emperor Hirohito, 200,000 persons stood before the imperial palace tonight waving lanterns and cheering the occupation of Nanking.

Indicating that Emperor Hirohito was speedily informed of President Roosevelt's wish, Naval Minister Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai was twice summoned to the imperial palace, according to reliable information.

Promised warmer temperature failed to materialize, but it is believed that warmer weather will strike the district soon, as the extreme cold is unseasonable.

HUGE PROCESSIONS IN JAPANESE CITIES

By JAMES E. YOUNG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Dec. 14.—Jubilant celebrations were staged today in Tokyo and other major Japanese cities in observance of the fall of Nanking, where Nippon's military legions finally overcame stubborn Chinese resistance and completed occupation of all important points and fortifications.

At the same time, in a long statement to the nation, Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye indicated that Japan plans to set up a new administration in the Nanking area of China.

In Tokyo, 800,000 school children, students, reservists and other celebrants paraded the streets, waving flags and converging at the huge square in front of the imperial palace.

A huge lantern procession was scheduled for later tonight in which 200,000 persons will participate.

Similar celebrations were held at Osaka, Kyoto, Yokohama and Kobe. Meanwhile, military officials formally informed Emperor Hirohito regarding the capture of Nanking, and congratulations were telegraphed to Admiral Hasegawa and Lt.-Gen. Iwane Matsui.

she had ever before heard of the supposed buried treasure. Mrs. McCurdy said that she had heard rumors to that effect, but that they were all hearsay.

She had paid Deem $1 for her first reading, and at a second had given him $9. The hidden fortune was again discussed at this meeting and as a result she had sent for her brother, Elmer J. Miller of Fombell, Beaver county. Together they went to Rev. Deems and the story of the hidden treasure was repeated.

A subsequent conference culminated in Miller's giving Rev. Deem $100 and Mrs. McCurdy something over one hundred, including the money she had already paid.

Miller, who followed his sister on the witness stand, said that Deem had told them that the money was buried not far from the public road on the Miller farm. On occasion of the visit when the money was paid over, the witness said that Deem had put a piece of white paper in an envelope and sealed it up. When the envelope was opened, there was writing on it regarding the buried treasure.

Deem told them that in order to find the buried treasure, according to the witness, it would be necessary for him to send to New York for some "seals". He said that if Miller would put in $100 and Mrs. McCurdy $100 he would put in $100 and they would send for the "seals". This was when Miller and Mrs. McCurdy parted with their money. Miller said that he had not seen Rev. Deem again until his sister had sent for him to come here and identify him. The "hidden treasure" was never found. The case is still on trial.

brought directly into the situation by the head of the American state, Japan is confronted with an unprecedented crisis, and all top-flight naval authorities are in a tight predicament.

Summoning of Admiral Yonai before the emperor and delivery of the memorandum, bowing to American demands, to the embassy closely followed receipt of Secretary of State Hull's sharp note from Washington.

Punishment?

While repeated assurances have been given that the aviators who bombed the Panay will be punished, it was pointed out that in previous cases, such as the machine-gunning of British Ambassador Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hughessen, whatever punitive action may have been taken was never revealed.

All government quarters are worried over the Anglo-American incidents, but there is no fear here of a concerted demarche by Washington and London.

Naval authorities expressed consternation over alleged violation of "emphatic instructions" never to attack before it is absolutely ascertained that the objective is military.

Yet foreign observers saw a strange coincidence in land artillery attacks on British gunboats at the same time airplanes were bombing the Panay and three tankers.

What makes right? Well, what the Japs are doing would be unendurably wrong if a few Marines could lick them.

With industrial activities at a low ebb, a back to the farm movement seems to be in the making, according to local real estate dealers. Inquiries have been more frequent during the past few weeks, with indications that they will increase after the beginning of the new year. Many industrial workers have learned, that while they may be able to get higher wages when plants are running, they are without employment so much of the time that they consume all they have saved. While the income is not so great on the farm, it is steadier, and at least insures a good living to those willing to work. A former farmer told Pa. In the improvement of New Castle streets by WPA labor during the past few years, it is interesting to note that the work has been greatly facilitated by the ease with which stone has been secured without having to haul it long distances. Much of the stone has been taken from a quarry on Ray street. It provides not only stone that can be broken up for street foundations, but a good grade of building stone for pillars, walls and embankments. It is comparatively easily quarried, and the huge excavations which have been made indicate the extent to which the quarry has been worked.

Must Halt Encroachment.

The point has been reached where United States and European powers must either withdraw completely from the Orient or else definitely halt Japanese encroachment, in the opinion of responsible adminstration quarters.

Concerted naval action by the United States and Great Britain loomed as an imminent possibility as the aftermath of the aerial bombing and machine gun attacks on their commercial and naval shipping by Japanese war planes on the Yangtze river over the week-end.

Stripped of its polite diplomatic verbiage, the certain conviction lay with the White House and state department that the bombing and sinking of the Panay, and the three tankers was a deliberate and provocative act by Japan.

The immediate apology of Japan, made simultaneously at Tokyo and Washington, was not considered sufficient by the American government.

Demands By President.

In an unprecedented memoranda, President Roosevelt after a lengthy conference with Secretary Hull, instructed that the emperor of Japan be informed:

"1. That the president is deeply shocked and concerned by the news of the indiscriminate bombing of American and other non-Chinese vessels on the Yangtze, and that he requests that the emperor be so advised.

HUNT MANIAC AFTER DUAL CRIME IN HOME NEAR PHILADELPHIA

Miss Griffin ran to a neighboring estate for help.

Police learned that the chauffeur for a neighbor had given a ride to the Camp Hill railroad station nearby to a youth who hailed him as he passed the Carpenter home at about the time the murderer left.

Theory that the slayer was a maniac was based both on his conduct and on Miss Griffin's report that he wore underwear of the type usually seen only in hospitals and institutions.

Mrs. Carpenter was the widow of the late Aron Edward Carpenter, a manufacturer. Pretty and blonde, she was 28. Carpenter died in 1935 while her divorce action was pending and she inherited about $25,000 from his estate. She was a dog fancier and often exhibited her Doberman Pinschers.

Investigation revealed that she was killed with her own gun, taken from a bureau drawer. The bullet entered her brain above the left eye.

Japan Celebrates Nanking Fall

Tokyo Scene Of Jubilation

Japan Announces Plan To Set Up New Administration In Nanking Area

HUGE PROCESSIONS IN JAPANESE CITIES

By JAMES R. YOUNG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Dec. 14.—Jubilant celebrations were staged today in Tokyo and other major Japanese cities in observance of the fall of Nanking, where Nippon's military legions finally overcame stubborn Chinese resistance and completed occupation of all important points and fortifications.

At the same time, in a long statement to the nation, Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye indicated that Japan plans to set up a new administration in the Nanking area of China.

In Tokyo, 800,000 school children, students, reservists and other celebrants paraded the streets, waving flags and converging at the huge square in front of the imperial palace.

A huge lantern procession was scheduled for later tonight in which 200,000 persons will participate.

Similar celebrations were held at Osaka, Kyoto, Yokohama and Kobe. Meanwhile, military officials formally informed Emperor Hirohito regarding the capture of Nanking, and congratulations were telegraphed to Admiral Hasegawa and Lt.-Gen. Iwane Matsui.

BRITAIN SEEKS TO PROD U. S. INTO DRASTIC ACTION

United States will increase her own naval forces in far eastern waters.

The British are reconciled to the fact that Japan does not fear Britain alone, but are convinced that Tokyo would be utterly panic-stricken at the threat of joint Anglo-American action.

The view prevails that a joint naval demonstration or even a joint increase of British and American Naval units in far eastern waters would be sufficient to check Japanese defiance of the rights and interests of Western powers—especially those of the British.

Thus the British press is clamoring for joint action and even the United States that it must not "underestimate its own interests in the far east."

This same paper assured America that she can "unquestionably rely on Britain to support her in any action she may feel called upon to take."

'BURIED TREASURE' FIGURES IN TRIAL

she had ever before heard of the supposed buried treasure, Mrs. McCurdy, said that she had heard rumors to that effect, but that they were all hearsay.

She had paid Deem $1 for her first reading, and at a second had given him $9. The hidden fortune was again discussed at this meeting and as a result she had sent for her brother, Elmer J. Miller of Fombell, Beaver county. Together they went to Rev. Deems and the story of the hidden treasure was repeated.

A subsequent conference culminated in Miller's giving Rev. Deem $100 and Mrs. McCurdy, something over one hundred, including the money she had already paid.

Miller, who followed his sister on the witness stand, said that Deem had told them that the money was buried not far from the public road on the Miller farm. On occasion of the visit when the money was paid over, the witness said that Deem had put a piece of white paper in an envelope and sealed it up. When the envelope was opened, there was writing on it regarding the buried treasure.

Deem told them that in order to find the buried treasure, according to the witness, it would be necessary for him to send to New York for some "seals". He said that if Miller would put in $100 and Mrs. McCurdy $100 he would put in $100 and they would send for the "seals". This was when Miller and Mrs. McCurdy parted with their money. Miller said that he had not seen Rev. Deem again until his sister had sent for him to come here and identify him. The "hidden treasure" was never found. The case is still on trial.

JAPAN ACCEDES TO DEMANDS OF UNITED STATES

brought directly into the situation by the head of the American state, Japan is confronted with an unprecedented crisis, and all top-flight naval authorities are in a tight predicament.

Summoning of Admiral Yonai before the emperor and delivery of the memorandum, bowing to American demands, to the embassy closely followed receipt of Secretary of State Hull's sharp note from Washington.

Punishment?

While repeated assurances have been given that the aviators who bombed the Panay will be punished, it was pointed out that in previous cases, such as the machine-gunning of British Ambassador Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hughessen, whatever punitive action may have been taken was never revealed.

All government quarters are worried over the Anglo-American incidents, but there is no fear here of a concerted demarche by Washington and London.

Naval authorities expressed consternation over alleged violation of "emphatic instructions" never to attack before it is absolutely ascertained that the objective is military.

Yet foreign observers saw a strange coincidence in land artillery attacks on British gunboats at the same time airplanes were bombing the Panay and three tankers.

What makes right? Well, what the Japs are doing would be unendurably wrong if a few Marines could lick them.

With industrial activities at a low ebb, a back to the farm movement seems to be in the making, according to local real estate dealers. Inquiries have been more frequent during the past few weeks, with indications that they will increase after the beginning of the new year. Many industrial workers have learned, that while they may be able to get higher wages when plants are running, they are without employment so much of the time that they consume all they have saved. While the income is not so great on the farm, it is steadier, and at least insures a good living to those willing to work. A former farmer told Pa Newc today that he had been working in the mills for eight years, and is just where he started. He is now looking for a farm.

Pa Newc admires the spirit of the Salvation Army lassies who have stood on Washington street during the cold weather of the past week in their efforts to help the poor and unfortunate. With hands benumbed by cold they keep industriously ringing a bell to attract the attention of the gay Christmas shoppers. On an easel is a playcard calling attention to the worthy cause, and a pot into which passers by may drop their coins. It is ajob which few would covet, but one which is very necessary in bringing cheer to homes that might otherwise be forgotten by Santa Claus. Those who contribute to this worthy cause may rest assured that any money given to the Salvation Army will be judiciously expended.

In the improvement of New Castle streets by WPA labor during the past few years, it is interesting to note that the work has been greatly facilitated by the ease with which stone has been secured without having to haul it long distances. Much of the stone has been taken from a quarry on Ray street. It provides not only stone that can be broken up for street foundations, but a good grade of building stone for pillars, walls and embankments. It is comparatively easily quarried, and the huge excavations which have been made indicate the extent to which the quarry has been worked.

If you have been able to raise the price of a 1938 auto license plate and have received it from the Bureau of Motos Vehicles it may interest you to know that you will now be able to use it within a few days. Those who have not secured their license plates are advised to do so at once, as there is always a rush near the end of the month. Unless you get your application in early you may be without your plate on January 1, and that would be just too bad.

Detour marks on the Pennsylvania state highway system have become scarcer and scarcer during the past few months. To the north and east of this city there is not a detour within a hundred miles, the nearest being east of Warren, Pa. Southeast of the city there is a small detour at Ford City, where a bridge is closed, and south, there is a detour in Beaver county between Salem church and state route 251 on route 168. There are only six bridges on state highways, which have not been rebuilt following the floods of the last two years.

One of the biggest loads of Christmas trees ever assembled on a freight car for delivery in New Castle, is resting behind a local warehouse, loaded with ice and snow. The trees came from Vermont and were held up for several days due to a blizzard. The car contains more than 4,000 trees, which will soon adorn New Castle homes.

At 3:30 Monday morning two men standing at the No. 2 gate at the rear of the Shenango tin mill were startled to see three deer roving nearby—a buck and two does. Pa Newc suspects they were looking for food and not for work.

ified to getting the call on the night of September 10 and putting it out on the police radio.

Officers Peter Hilliard and Chas. Shep who were then special officers testified they had answered the call, had gone to the Donofrio home where Mrs. Donofrio told them she had shot James Aiello. Hilliard took her to the police station and Shep stayed at the home where he recovered the gun. He identified the gun.

A number of exhibits were introduced by the commonwealth this morning. The clothes worn by the dead man, the autombile seat from his car, pictures of the car and the gun with which he was shot. It seemed possible at noon that the commonwealth might close its case late this afternoon.

MORE SURVIVORS OF SUNKEN BOAT REPORTED FOUND

among the party located at Hanshan Island. Eight were badly wounded.

Italian Correspondent Dead

The dead included Sandro Sandri, famous Italian newspaper correspondent who had been covering developments in the Far East for La Stampa of Turin. He was once a staff correspondent for Premier Mussolini's newspaper, Popolo D' Italia, of Milan, and was known as one of Italy's "original Fascists."

The other dead man was identified as Charles Ensminger, store keeper aboard the Panay. Both were aboard the Panay when it was hit and sunk.

Meanwhile, Japanese authorities informed British officials that the Japanese would "do their utmost" to delay their offensive against Hoshien, midway between Nanking and Wuhu, until all survivors from the Panay and the other American vessels are evacuated.

The Oahu sent a radio message stating that it was planned, according to present arrangements, to bring the survivors, including the wounded, and the bodies of the dead to Shanghai aboard river warships.

Promise Safe Passage

The Japanese navy was said to have promised safe passage along the Yangtze for any foreign warships engaged in this purpose and also offered to send a Japanese minesweeper to convoy the foreign craft.

The more seriously wounded victims may be flown to Shanghai, but final decision on this point has not yet been reached.

When all the survivors from the four wrecked vessels are finally concentrated at Hoshien, authorities will be in a better position to make detailed arrangements.

Two giant Japanese flying boats, equipped with doctors and nurses, medical stores and food arrived at Hoshien to lend aid. The Japanese gunboat Hodzu and two Japanese destroyers were expected to reach Hoshien later in the afternoon to aid the wounded.

The Bee, escorted by the Hodzu, possibly will leave Hoshien for Shanghai tomorrow. The Oahu may accompany them.

Meanwhile, the Japanese navy offered to provide a convoy for American gunboats to go to Nanking and investigate the Panay incident. At the same time, Japanese authorities warned the Americans of the dangers of Chinese mines floating in the Yangtze river and of hostilities in the vicinity of Nanking.

The Bee and the Oahu, when they return to Shanghai, are expected to bring the survivors and the bodies of the dead with them.

and three American oil tankers, the United States government has decided, has overstepped itself.

Must Halt Encroachment.

The point has been reached where United States and European powers must either withdraw completely from the Orient or else definitely halt Japanese encroachment, in the opinion of responsible adminstration quarters.

Concerted naval action by the United States and Great Britain loomed as an imminent possibility as the aftermath of the aerial bombing and machine gun attacks on their commercial and naval shipping by Japanese war planes on the Yangtze river over the week-end.

Stripped of its polite diplomatic verbiage, the certain conviction lay with the White House and state department that the bombing and sinking of the Panay, and the three tankers was a deliberate and provocative act by Japan.

The immediate apology of Japan, made simultaneously at Tokyo and Washington, was not considered sufficient by the American government.

Demands By President.

In an unprecedented memoranda, President Roosevelt after a lengthy conference with Secretary Hull, instructed that the emperor of Japan be informed:

"1. That the president is deeply shocked and concerned by the news of the indiscriminate bombing of American and other non-Chinese vessels on the Yangtze, and that he requests that the emperor be so advised.

"2. That all the facts are being assembled and will shortly be presented to the Japanese government.

"3. That in the meantime it is hoped that the Japanese government will be considering definitely for presentation to this government:

"(A). Full expressions of regret and proffer of full compensation.

"(B). Methods guaranteeing against a repetition of any similar attack in the future."

In the absence of the president, Mrs. S. M. Matheny acted as president pro-tem. The program included: "Colonial History of New Hampshire," by Mrs. C. H. Martin; "Settlement of New Jersey," by Mrs. William J. Marshall; "Colonial History of Delaware," by Mrs. H. C. Mitchell. All of the papers were given in an interesting manner.

Mrs. F. E. Stough was the critic for the day.

On January 3 the circle will have its annual party, the place to be announced.

Following, the group enjoyed a refreshment period, with a committee of six serving. They were Mesdames Flora Maretti, Elizabeth McCandless, Isabelle Watters, Idyline Wimer, Cecelia Gowell and Dorothy Stoddard.

Mrs. Doris Sankey of Harrisburg, formerly of this city, is worthy matron of the chapter.

Announcement was made that this evening the officers will gather for their annual Yule party in the Elks club house. Gifts will be exchanged.

SHENANGO CHOIR, 333 AT G. A. COX HOME

Delightful in every detail was the Christmas party given Monday evening in the home of Mrs. G. A. Cox on Maitland Lane, Walmo, when she entertained members of the choir of Shenango Chapter No. 333, Order of the Eastern Star. She had as associate hostesses Mrs. Caroline Stritmater and Mrs. Margaret Love.

A tureen dinner served at a beautifully arranged table in the dining room was the first feature on the program, novel Santa Claus favors marking each place, which were taken home as mementos by the assemblage. The delicious menu was served in the subdued light of candles, and much gaiety prevailed.

A social period followed, when old St. Nick, in the person of Mrs. Birdie Dietterle, appeared on the scene and distributed gifts to everyone. This took place amidst a setting of Yuletide wonderment, the Cox home being beautifully decorated in keeping with the holiday season. The tree with tiny colored lights claimed much attention, and wreaths brightening the windows, and the location in general with the snow covered ground, gave the participants an added thrill.

With the singing of carols and the playing of games, the occasion was brought to a close.

Mrs. Freda Drumm will receive the choir on January 10 at their regular meeting.

MRS. JOHN B. FRASER HONORED AT PARTIES

Mrs. John B. Fraser of 636 South Ray street, was guest of honor at two functions over the week end, held as a medium of celebrating her seventieth birthday anniversary, which proved a complete surprise.

On Sunday evening, her daughters, Mrs. Earl McCormick and Mrs. Harry Irwin were co-hostesses at the honorees' home on Ray street, when they received members of the immediate family for a dinner party. Covers marked for sixteen guests at a beautifully appointed table, centered with a large tiered cake set off in the glow of candle light. After partaking of a full course menu, the time was spent leisurely.

As mementos of the happy occasion, Mrs. Fraser was the recipient of a collection of lovely gifts, and also, she received messages of congratulations from those at a distance.

Friday evening however, a similar event, was held in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest G. Fraser of Girard road, Youngstown, O. They too, entertained a group at a 6 o'clock dinner.

Attending the function held in this city, from out of town, were Mr. and Mrs. James Staten and son James Dean of Girard, O.

BROADHEAD CIRCLE HAS LOVELY PARTY

Th Alma Broadhead Circle of the First Baptist church held a delightful Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Ed. McKibben of Meyer avenue, Monday evening. Dinner was served at 6:30 and the tables presented a most pleasing picture with their festive decorations. The long table in the dining room was decorated in blue and silver and the small tables in the living room in red and green. A small illuminated Christmas tree in one corner of the living room offered an inviting spot for the gifts which were later exchanged.

During the business session a special Christmas offering was taken which will be sent immediately for relief work in China.

Mrs. Harvey Brenner had charge of the program, in which she was assisted by Miss Verlee Armstrong; the program consisting of the third chapter of the study book "The Way of the Witnesses", which was followed by a special Christmas program, and the singing of Christmas carols.

Mrs. Harry Cook gave a review of the life of Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross.

The Reading Circle Holds Yule Tea At J. F. Rentz Home

The Reading Circle members held their annual Christmas tea on Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. F. Rentz, Winter avenue, with approximately 50 in attendance, including associates and guests.

Mrs. W. E. Ferver, president of the organization presided over the short business session at the conclusion of which the club group responded to roll call by contributing "Yuletide suggestions".

The program for the afternoon was in charge of a committee of three including Mrs. W. D. Stitzinger, Mrs. Burr M. Rogers and Mrs. Fred Smith.

At this time Mrs. Fred Smith read an explanation of "Christmas Carols" and announced the following numbers which were given adding to enjoyment of the event. They were: "O Come All Ye Faithful," sung by the entire group; "O Little Town of Bethlehem" (solo), by Mrs. Burr M. Rogers; reading, "Good King Wenceslas," by Miss Edith Moore; "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," solo by Mrs. W. D. Stitzinger. In conclusion, the assemblage joined in singing "Joy To the World". Mrs. J. F. Rentz was the accompanist.

The second part of the entertainment was given by a chorus from the senior high school, made up of the following members: Hazel Sheehy, Jeanne Rice, Madalynne Earle, Catherine Clark, Jean Chapman, Eleanor Verbode, Agnes Palkovitch, Cleora Brown and Nancy Brenner. Miss Jeanne Louise Wright was accompanist. This ensemble gave for their program "Under the Stars One Night," written by Margaret Brown; "Sleep My Little Jesus," by Geibel; "Fairest Lord Jesus" (composed in the 12th century); "Sleep Holy Child" (an old French carol); "Angel Fair, We Heard On High" (an old French carol).

Afterwards, the guests were invited into the spacious dining room where dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. W. E. Ferver presided over the tea table, which was most attractive with a centerpiece of varigated holly. On either side were lighted tall red waxen tapers. Completing the Yuletide motif, was the tea service of gleaming silver, combined with red and green crystalware.

The rooms were beautifully decorated thruout with large low containers filled with American Beauty roses, and the mantle was transformed into a picturesque setting, being embanked with a variety of holly and choice Christmas plants. Of unusual interest was a quaint vase holding red pepper berries, a gift received from Mrs. George A. Dickson of California, a former member of The Reading Circle.

Miss Edith Moore, chairman of the social committee, and Mrs. Dean Staley aided the hostess during the afternoon hours.

A large collection of gifts for the children of the Neighborhood House was received at this time, which will be distributed on December 24.

The next meeting of the circle will be held on January 10 in the home of Mrs. C. L. Sipe, 914 Warren avenue.

Music Club Yule Program At First U.P. Church Impressive

Chimes! Soft choral music sung to strains of organ music, always brings thoughts of the Yuletide season, and on Monday evening in the auditorium of the First United Presbyterian church, the chorus of The Music club under the personal direction of A. Alfred Taylor, presented one of the most outstanding holiday program of the season.

Mrs. Burr M. Rogers presided in the role of hostess on this occasion, the program being launched at 8 o'clock.

The vested choirs made a lasting impression on the large appreciative audience when they gave their numbers in an exquisite setting, in the glow of soft candle light. These, burning in branching brass candelabrum, were perfectly arranged in the background.

Worthy of particular mention were the organ compositions composed and played by A. Alfred Taylor, who is rapidly gaining recognition for his talents. These numbers, melodious and pleasing in tempo, are certainly an addition to organ music.

Why Use Pills or Purgatives?

The purpose of most cathartics is to over-stimulate your intestines. Afterward, you may feel weakened. In cases of common constipation, isn't it better to keep "regular" with a wholesome NATURAL food like Kellogg's All-Bran?

All-Bran will keep you "regular" as the time-table—but it works so differently from medicines. It doesn't overstimulate your intestines; it gives them TWO things they need. First, All-Bran provides "bulk"—it absorbs water and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination. Next, vitamin "B,"—All-Bran is a good source of this vitamin that tones up your intestinal tract.

Use All-Bran REGULARLY: eat two tablespoons every day and drink plenty of water. The results will delight you! Every grocer sells All-Bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ITALY LEAVES THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

(From Philadelphia Inquirer)

ITALY'S formal withdrawal from the League of Nations, so long foreshadowed, puts a seal of finality on the separation between the alignment of dictatorships and that of the European democracies.

It is true that the league today is only a skeleton. The sounds recently emanating from Geneva have suggested the rattling of dry bones rather than the voice of a living, vigorous organization. But Great Britain and France have clung to the idea that it still constitutes a framework on which to fashion new plans for the world's peace.

From the day of the Italian bombardment of Corfu to the invasion and conquest of Ethiopia and the Italian participation in the Spanish civil war, Mussolini has repeatedly and successfully defied the league to exert its paper authority over a recalcitrant member. He has now joined in setting up another League of Nations—three committed to similar aims and embodying the same philosophy of government—consisting of Italy, Germany and Japan. In spite of his declaration of "collaboration for peace" the prospect can scarcely be but disquieting to those whom he designates as "the herds of the great democracies."

The idealistic Covenant of the original League of Nations was drafted in the belief that it would abolish forever the old system of dual or triple offensive and defensive alliances. But the ink was scarcely dry on the document before the European Powers were back at the old game of partnerships, agreements and understandings, the details of which were not long kept secret.

It was inevitable that these special, outside arrangements, dictated by self-interest, would take precedence over any specific or implied obligations to an organization of half a hundred nations with their many diverse and clashing interests. The powers that still paid lip service to the league did so because they regarded Geneva as a good market place for their international horse-trading and bargaining.

Whenever the question of enforcing the provisions of the covenant was raised, these powers exemplified their long practice in pussyfooting and took care not to get hurt. They gave Italy a slap on the wrist with economic sanctions that did no harm. They set up a non-intervention committee which played out its farce in London. Without consulting the league, Great Britain entered into a naval arrangement with Germany that conflicted with the Treaty of Versailles.

It has frequently been remarked that had the United States in an unguarded moment entered the League of Nations, it would have had to retire from membership long before this.

But although, fortunately, we have remained outside the league, the efforts to drag our nation into the European game of give-and-take—we would be expected to do the giving—still continue. The Far Eastern imbroglio revived these attempts.

Nobody now dreams of getting America into the tottering league, although the hope of forcing America into a position of leadership has not been abandoned in certain quarters. But we went far enough at Brussels along the perilous path of the international peacemaker.

WINTER'S HERE, BE CAREFUL

The calendar may not say so, but winter is here with all his trappings, inaugurating the biggest "don't" season of the year. From now until the middle of March, safety organizations will have to work overtime to issue their warnings against the dangers which lurk in snow, ice and low temperatures.

These warnings should be heeded by men, women and children. For those who drive, we caution against taking autos into slippery streets without equipping the wheels with chains, for no matter how carefully you many drive, there remains the possibility that a quick stop may be necessary, causing a dangerous skid. For those who tend the family furnace, we urge that they watch the fire carefully and see that the furnace is not overheated. If the street car is about to pass, wait for the next one rather than run to catch the car in sight, for running on ice is a good way to suffer a painful fall. Children should stay off main travelled streets while coasting.

These are only a few of the warnings that should be heeded. Whether at nome, in a car, walking or coasting, BE CAREFUL.

INVESTMENT IN MANHOOD

The annual report of Robert Fechner, director of the Civilian Conservation Corps, departs from governmental routine by citing other than material statistics. Reminding that the CCC program has "directly affected 2,000,000 persons," Mr. Fechner adds the unorthodox but plausible assurance that the camp program "has exerted a mighty influence in conserving American manhood, a priceless national asset."

Naturally there is little heart-throb in his recital of 365,233,500 forest trees planted. Erosion control treatment for 933,482 acres and the 1,081,931 gulley dams built also lack human warmth. But the idea of 300,000 idle young men from families on relief going into the woods for six months, there to fortify their bodies and lay the foundations of character, can hardly be put into cold figures.

It is proper that a government report thus lays stress on increasing self-reliance and confidence in the elementals of sound living. The report adds to the evidence that this is one super-idealized federal agency which not only is soundly based on a vital need, but is meeting that need meritoriously

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

AUTO CAUSES TROUBLE

Over the family car is a deal of trouble in some homes, especially homes of adolescent children. More often than not the teen-age son is the center of the stage.

Now any adolescent, even the child over eight or ten, could easily learn to run the family car, without any instruction, if allowed to undertake it. He is familiar with the mechanics of the thing long before he has the wheel for the first time.

Some children, even before their teens, are allowed to run the car, and some not "allowed" to run it. An occasional lad having learned in secret to drive will demonstrate so good ability at handling the car, that his father will let him go on doing so. Soon this lad is driving with the dad along, and the step to the boy's driving alone is not far. It is surprising how many parents will let their boy under legal age have liberties with the car. These fathers should know that their liability insurance will not protect them in the event of an accident while the boy is driving unlawfully.

Long before the child is old enough to drive lawfully, his parents, if they are wise, will make these facts clear to this child. Then, if the child had been properly controlled up to then, he will not be permitted to drive anywhere until arriving at that age.

Observe Driving Laws

Once the youth begins to drive, the hope is that he will observe speed limits, and not exceed a rate of speed the family has convenanted to observe. Persuasion may be more effective, by far, than stating of orders.

If, however, there are clear signs of carelessness in this young driver, he should be denied the privilege to drive at all for several weeks or months. Drivers under 21 prove more dangerous than their parents, as a rule. But these youths, being more alert, could easily excel their parents as drivers, if they set out to do so. But youth is daring, takes chances and shows off. Nor does he sense the responsibility involved as do those with more experience.

Parents are inclined to let their adolescent children have undue share in the use of the family car, and to encourage these youths to expect its use still more, growing increasingly selfish. I wish more parents asserted their rights and good judgment in respect to the family car. All too many parents have no spine in regard to such matters; they are only jelly fishes.

FARMERS NEED NO LEGISLATION

The October cash farm income made a less than usual increase over September, but was $25,000,000 or three per cent greater, than a year earlier, it was reported by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Prices of farm commodities made a further decline in October, which together with the smaller than usual volume of marketings of grains, cotton and some of the meat animals, were chiefly responsible for the less than usual increase in income from September to October. The unfavorable prices of cotton have discouraged marketings in a volumn that would be expected on the basis of available supplies. Receipts of cotton during October at the ten principal spot markets were slightly less than a year earlier, despite the much larger crop this year. A large volume of cotton, however, has been turned over by growers to the government under the 1937 loan provisions. In the October estimate of income from farm marketings the loans made to growers for cotton have been included in the estimate of receipts from sales. Total loans for the month amounted to approximately $50,000,000 and covered 1,104,000 bales of cotton.

Income from farm marketings in October totalled $907,000,000 compared with $816,000,000 in September and $882,000,000 in October, 1936. The increased income in October, as compared with the same month last year, was due to larger receipts from crops. Income from tobacco showed a marked increase as the larger sales from this year's greater production were accompanied by slightly higher prices.

Larger marketings of corn, wheat and apples contributed materially to the increase in income this October over last. Income from cotton, however, was less this October as prices were sharply lower. Smaller marketings of all classes of meat animals and dairy products more than offset the higher prices prevailing this October and reduced the income from livestock items below last year's level.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By Francine Markel

Dear Miss Markel—Just what is the rule governing the use of valances over draperies? When should they be used and when not? H. W.

Answer: The architecture of the window and the dimensions of the room are important factors to be considered when selecting a valance.

If the room has a low ceiling, a valance will make it appear lower. And if the windows are small a valance will cut off their width in addition to shutting out much needed light.

Should a valance be required to hide the mechanism of the drapery attachments, even under these circumstances, a very narrow strip of material may, without detriment, be used for this purpose.

Whenever the dimensions of the windows and the room will permit, valances should be used, since they give a more finished effect.

If a ceiling is too high or a window too high for its width, a valance extending well over the glass will produce proper balance.

Must Read Mussolini's Book.
Is Recommended In Italian Schools.
"Beauties" Of War Are Depicted.

MUCH IS being said concerning the book that Bruno Mussolini, 21-year-old son of Il Duce wrote in regard to his war experiences.

This book, according to The Living Age, is "recommended reading" in Italian schools. Anything "recommended" in a dictator country may be understood to mean "compulsory".

Bruno, who wrote the book at 20, explains the reason for his 150-page volume, "Flying Over Ethiopian Mountain Ranges", in these words:

"My purpose is to have Italian youth learn from a young man what it feels like to be fighting a war when only 20 years of age, and to be above war's sorrow, seeing only its beauties."

WHAT BRUNO SAW

Now let us see what "beauties" Bruno saw:

"I get only mild sensations from bombing, perhaps because I was expecting enormous explosions like those in American films, whereas the little Abyssinian homes, made of withies and rushes, give no satisfaction to anyone bombing them. . . .

"The little incendiary bombs give satisfaction; at any rate one sees fire and smoke. We conscientiously burned the whole of this zone. But there were no inhabitants left. . . .

"I have never been able to see a fire, although I have often chased fire-engines. . . . Perhaps because someone had heard of this gap in my education a machine from the seventeenth squadron was ordered to bomb the Adi-Abo zone exclusively with incendiary bombs. . . . We had to set fire to the wooded hills, to the fields, and to the little villages. . . . It was all most diverting. . . . The bombs hardly touched the earth before they burst out into white smoke and an enormous flame and the dry grass began to burn. I thought of the animals; God, how they ran. . . . After the bomb-racks were emptied I began throwing bombs by hand. . . . It was most amusing: a big zariba surrounded by tall trees was not easy to hit. I had to aim carefully at the straw roof and only succeeded at the third shot. The wretches who were inside, seeing their roof burning, jumped out and ran off like mad. . . .

"We went to Dacue, where there was a market and a big crowd; we dropped a few bombs.

"Surrounded by a circle of fire about 5,000 Abyssinians came to a sticky end. It was like hell; the smoke rose to incredible heights and the flames reddened the setting sun."

TODAY Is The Day

Copyright 1937 Central PressBy CLARK KINNAIRD

TUESDAY, DEC. 14.

Once Upon Dec. 14th—Two years hence, on this date, the great DuPont clan can celebrate the 200th anniversary of the birth of the founder of the family in America, Pierre Samuel DuPont de Nemours. He was born Dec. 14, 1739, in Paris and he was 60 when he first appeared on this side after having been forced to leave France as a dangerous radical.

In the time of Pierre DuPont the biggest "economic royalist" in the United States was the same man revered as Father of His Country. Washington died on DuPont's birthday the year DuPont first came to these shores, the richest man in the country and the wealthiest president this country has ever had.

Pierre DuPont was received with honor, and President Jefferson invited him to prepare a plan for national education in the United States. (It was not carried out here, but was eventually adopted in France.) For DuPont was one of the first great political economists, and his writings and work, his "radical" campaign against paper-money inflation and other errors and abuses that dwarfed commercial enterprise and ruined farmers, was well known to the founders of our government.

DuPont industrial enterprise in the United States really began with Pierre's sons, Victor Marie, and Irenee. They were first to settle in Delaware. Pierre DuPont had set himself up in New York as a banker, and gone into bankruptcy. Victor Marie set up a cloth factory in Wilmington, where Irenee had decided to locate a powder factory. When Irenee, eminent chemist who had been made an official of the French government's powder works, came over with his father, he discovered the poor quality of powder manufactured in America, and determined to improve it. Virginia-proud President Jefferson sought to have the DuPont plants established in Virginia, but there, as in Maryland, Irenee was deterred by slavery.

On Other Dec. 14th—1417—The original of Shakespere's most profligate and famous character, Sir John Falstaff, died a religious martyr. He was burned for refusing to abjure the Protestant teachings of John Wyclif, who was first to translate the Bible into English. His real name was Sir John Oldcastle.

1656—Blaise Pascal wrote "I have made this letter rather long only because I have not had time to make it shorter," and gave the world one of its most familiar quotations

1784—Dissatisfied settlers in western North Carolina set up the state Frankland. (It's now eastern Tennessee.)

1799—George Washington died at 67, of septic sore throat and bloodletting. The latter was the method used by his doctor to treat him for the former; it undoubtedly hastened his end.

1816—The first forestry law in U. S. was enacted, in Indiana. It provided for appointment of superintendents of school sections authorized to lease school-owned lands in the territory. Every lessee was required to set out 100 apple and 100 peach trees within four years. There's a good idea for today: requiring all users of public lands to plant trees.

1895—Albert Windsor, King George VI of Britain, was born. Birthdays of British kings born in Winter months are celebrated in Summer, when weather conditions are better for the traditional ceremonies. Other birthdays today, Kurt Schuschnigg, b. 1897, chancellor of Australia who was born in what is now Italian territory. Jane Cowl, b. 1884, actress Laura Ingalls b. 1912, well-publicized aviatrix.

Mr. And Mrs. Stanwood Menken, Of New York, Ask For Release Of Son

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. S. Stanwood Menken, prominent New York socialites, today telegraphed President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull to intercede in behalf of their son, Arthur Menken, newsreel cameraman, reported a prisoner of the Japanese at Nanking. The parents urged "immediate action" by the United States Diplomatic corps.

Cameraman Seen

Shanghai, Dec. 14.—Norman Alley, famous Amercan newsreel cameraman, who was reported missing following the bombing of the American gunboat Panay, today was said to have been seen with a shore party in the vicinity of Hushien.

Arthur Menken, New York socialite also doing newsreel work at Nanking, was reported to be in custody of the Japanese troops that captured Nanking. Menken remained in the Chinese capital to film the scenes. It was reported that his films had been confiscated. Officials of the company which employed him have made demands on the Japanese for his release.

News Briefs From City Hall

Cadillac, Pennsylvania license AV290, owned by Lawrence Flower, 224 East Washington street, was reported stolen from the parking ground at the old post office last night.

Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell and several members of the city force today were called as witnesses in the murder case now under way in Lawrence county court.

Local Police School Likely

Mayor Charles E. McGrath today stated that should the State Motor police not hold a training school for municipal officers, arrangements may be made to school those who are appointed to the force. The classes probably will be held in City hall, should this be decided upon.

Several members of the police graduated from the former state police school and were named to the force.

Owing to the plan to add 500 men to the State Motor police it is possible the state body will be too busy to take over the training of prospective municipal police for some time to come, hence the plan to give them schooling here, probably at the city building.

A civil service test for candidates will be held at the city building on December 20 because the present eligible list will expire December 21

The meeting was sponsored by Sid Wasley and J. D. Shirk of the Mathews Conveyor company of Ellwood. The film was presented by Mr. Preston of the tube concern's sales department.

At the close lunch was served.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS SOUTH SEAS GLAMOR

The glamour and romance of the South Seas, was brought to the Woman's Club on Monday afternoon, when, before a large audience, Miss Bathie Stewart, guest speaker, lectured on New Zealand. The meeting was held in the Highland U. P. church with the vice president, Mrs. R. S. Tannehill, presiding. Mrs. J. Glen Berry of the program committee, introduced Miss Stewart.

"The three islands of New Zealand comprise the farthest outpost of the British Empire. Eighty years ago the native Maori inhabitants were cannibals. During the years that have intervened they have become civilized. Many of their picturesque customs have been forgotten and the race itself is threatened with extinction and the population is now ninety-eight percent Anglo-Saxon, she stated.

"The islands are all that remains of a submerged continent," Miss Stewart told her audience, showing films of the islands. "The land is quite mountainous with many lakes, warm springs, and geysers. It is becoming a popular focal point for travelers."

Miss Stewart, who is an entertainer of charming personality, was dressed in the traditional Maori costume and illustrated her lecture with native songs and dances.

A Christmas tea was the concluding feature of the program. The table was beautifully decorated with Christmas greens and red taper candles. Miss Cordelia Roberts, Mrs. John Nothdurft, Mrs. S. L. McCracken and Mrs. E. N. Baer, life members of the club, poured. The social committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Orville Brown and Mrs. Earl Truby served as hostesses for the occasion.

"Sunny" Wall Had Police Role That Was Unusual

"My sole ambition was to serve the public in such a manner was to earn the respect of the public. I believe I accomplished this" said John William (Sunny) Wall, pensioned policeman in his South Beaver street residence today when he reminisced his policeman days. He holds the distinction of having been the only one of his race to have been elected to the city force here.

Wall, or "Sunny" as his comrades knew him, got that cognomen from his mother because he was always jolly when a youngster and when he came north the name followed him. He has been in New Castle since 1900, having come here from Winston-Salem.

It was on August 27, 1872 that Wall was born at Winston-Salem. As soon as he was able to get work he became a tobacco roller. This work was done by hand. He rolled plugs. Later he took up the butcher trade and worked two years in a slaughter house and four years behind the block.

Wall left his job in Winston-Salem to go to West Virginia where he got a job as a section employe on the Norfolk & Western and later became a coal miner at Vivian, W. Va. It was in the Bottom Creek mine where he labored. He returned to Winston-Salem and came to New Castle in January of 1900.

Always being a worker he had no difficulty getting a job. It wasn't an easy job. It was passing coal for the New Castle Traction company. Later he came a section employe for the company and it was his job to put sand and salt on North Hill tracks to prevent cars sliding. He had to carry the sand. In those days there was no sand car.

Wall later got a job in the chain mill of the Forge and Bolt works in the Seventh ward and in 1912 got a job firing boilers at the tin mill. It was in 1916 that he heard the call to put a bid in for a police job. His bid was accepted and Mayor A. D. Newell appointed him to the police department in that year.

Never Used Gun, Club

"I worked every beat in the city and I never had to use a gun or a club" said Wall in speaking of his police career. In fact, I never had any trouble with anyone. My sole ambition was to serve the public in a manner to earn the respect of the public. I believe I accomplished this" he stated.

Wall then went on to tell of the valuable advice given him when he went on the force by the late Sergeant Gene Buckley, Sergeant M. J. Young (who was the chief of police in 1916) and Sergeant William Tyrrell. Young and Tyrrell are now on the police force.

One of the experiences he recalled today was in connection with the search for a man who served time for murder. After an escape it became known that another person had helped him to disguise himself in women's clothing.

Wall went for a visit to Pittsburgh and while in Wylie avenue happened to see the person who was accused of helping disguise Reynolds. Wall turned his visit into one of duty, collared the suspect and brought him to New Castle. The man was convicted and punished for helping in the disguise.

On another occasion he was notified of a man being wanted for a robbery. He found the man in Apple alley. The man was convicted. In fact, Wall has had many experiences and worked every beat in town, from the North Hill to the Seventh ward and from the East to the West Side.

His beat on the North Hill was the biggest he ever had. Wall was a night patrolman in those days which were, 1917-1925. The beat he had to walk extended north from Grant street to Englewood avenue and everything in the city between the two rivers, east and west.

Wall recalls when the lower First ward was a hard place to police but he never had much trouble. He believes that his last beat, that which included Moravia street, is the hardest beat nowadays. He said that at different times there serious crimes were committed and said he helped to investigate the majority of them.

Wall is now 65. "I'm in good physical condition but not as fast as I was once" he asserted. "If I had everything to do over again I would adopt a policeman's career. I liked the work."

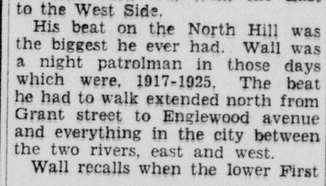

He was retired some months ago on pension.

Start Boycott Of Japanese Goods

(International News Service)

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Dec. 14.—Organizers of the Japanese boycott touched off here last night by a public bonfire of goods made in Japan today expressed hope the movement will spread from this pottery center throughout the nation.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor who presided at the demonstration, pledged his unions to aid the boycott until Japan ends what he termed its "ruthless,, barbarous, reprehensible war on the Chinese people."

Scores of boxes labeled "made in Japan" were burned on wind-swept Diedrich Hill overlooking the frozen Ohio river. A sparse crowd watched the burning but later more than 1300 jammed the Ceramic Theater after a torchlight parade to hear Green condemn Japan and hurl some veiled shafts at John L. Lewis.

Syria Shrine members of Pittsburgh will play Santa Claus to the children of Crawford-Oakridge again this year when presents will be given the tots at this home, which is conducted by the members of the Quota Club.

Word has been received from Pittsburgh that a committee composed of C. Ed. Brown, Wm. H. Dunlap, Jas. R. Long, W. A. Hofmeister and George Bolinger has been appointed to look after the Christmas treat for the children. They will represent the Pittsburgh Shrine and all members of this organization are invited to attend the Christmas party. The exact date of the visitation has not been decided upon but will be announced later.

The Shrine has been giving presents to the children of this home for a number of years as well as those at other homes of the kind in western Pennsylvania and it gives the members much pleasure to be able to make the little ones of unfortunate families glad at this time of the year.

PUBLIC ICE RINK BUILT

Successful Ice Built By Civic Club In Ward Is Used Daily

Water turned on a portion of the Mahoning Junior High school athletic field, corner of Newell and Madison avenues, has now frozen solid and is being used daily by the ward residents for a skating rink.

This project is sponsored by the Seventh Ward Civic club, and turned out to be successful. A group of people from the ward all worked on this project by building a snow wall about the place where the water was to be placed.

Water was then turned onto the field and let freeze. When the first water had frozen, another layer of water was turned on the field. This process was repeated until a suitable amount of water had been poured on the field and frozen.

This public rink is now being used by large numbers of the younger ward residents.

Sights Deer Near Home On Liberty Street

Two Buck Deer Make Visit To Crawford-Oakridge Home On Monday

A strange sight greeted H. P. McBride, superintendent of the Crawford-Oakridge home, on North Liberty street, Monday, when he looked out the window of the home. In the back yard of the home stood two large buck deer, calmly eating some corn left in the yard.

Several motorists passing on Liberty street, witnessed the sight, and one of them ran into the ditch while watching the animals.

The deer remained in the yard for some time, being frightened away later by several children who came up over the hill. According to McBride, the deer disappeared up over the hill back of the home in the direction of Union township.

PRIVATE SAYS SHAM WAR CAN GO BIT TOO FAR TO SUIT HIM

(International News Service)

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—The United States army puts too much realism in its sham wars, a certain private maintained here today.

The private, whose name, for obvious reasons, will remain a deep dark secret as far as official records are concerned, was driving a munitions truck in the recent sham battle at Leon Springs.

Driving the tail-end truck, the private was ordered to "load" some shells on his truck—although the others had taken all the munitions to the "battlefield". Muttering to himself and hoping no one would see him, he went through the motions of "loading" shells.

Arriving at the "battlefield" he reported to a sergeant for orders "This is a sham war," said the noncommissioned officer. "Unload your truck!"

"But——" said the private, choking back a protest as the "noncom" glared at him. He "unloaded" his truck, muttering, "I wish I'd joined the navy."

Nnoon time rolled around and the tired soldier went to the mess tent. There the sergeant reminded him again "this is a sham war. Just pretend you are eating."

The sergeant finally relented, allowing the muttering private to eat.

608-POUND FISH PRIZEWINNER IN MIAMI CONTEST

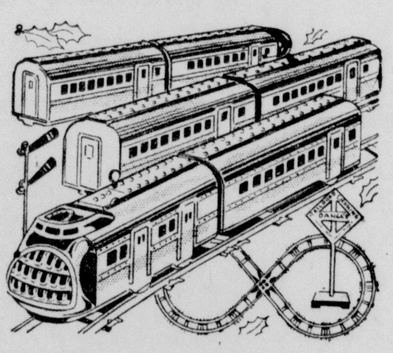

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla.—A 608-pound blue marlin caught by Gil Easton has won top honors as the largest fish caught during the summer in the Miami Rod & Reel club's fishing contest.

A 500-pound bluefin tuna ranked second, in the open division.

In the casting division, a 26-pound tarpon caught by Ralph Miller took first honors, and a 9-lb. 4 oz. black bass hooked by Henry Mangels on a casting lure set a new club record in this event. Nine other record catches were listed in six divisions, including a 10 lb. 3 oz. bonefish, one of the most difficult of all catches.

For dress wear black suede gloves with sequin trimmings are novel and swanky.

Celebrates Her 97th Birthday On Monday

Monday, Mrs. Levenia M. Weller, of 202 North Jefferson street, celebrated the reaching of a milestone which but few of us attain. She was 97 years old on Monday, December 13.

A quiet little celebration in her honor was held Monday by her niece, Mrs. J. A. Sechler, with whom she makes her home. A delightful birthday dinner was served, with a number of immediate relatives and friends in attendance. Mrs. Perry Eilbeck, of Akron, O., was an out-of-town guest.

Centering the birthday table was a giant cake, baked in tiers, and adorned with colors of green and red. The cake supported 97 brightly shining candles, which furnished the sole light for the dinner.

Mrs. Sechler was aided in serving by Mrs. May Bowers. Many beautiful gifts were presented to the honored guest, and more than 100 birthday greeting cards arrived during the day.

Last Sunday, Mrs. Weller was made happy again when her son, Jim, from Chicago, Ill., arrived in town to spend the day with her and wish her a happy birthday. Mrs. Weller has another son, John M., who also lives in Chicago but will be unable to come to New Castle until Christmas.

Mrs. Weller was born in Monroeville, in Allegheny county, on December 13, 1840, the daughter of Joel and Margaret Monroe, who were descendants of President Monroe.

Mrs. Weller has enjoyed excellent health throughout her lifetime. In 1935 she fell and sustained a broken hip. This injury has completely healed and she manages very nicely in walking.

Mrs. E. M. McMillin, of New Castle, is a niece who is 92 years old, and both she and Mrs. Weller celebrated their 72 wedding anniversary on the same day, December 5, this year. Mrs. McMillin was also a guest at the birthday dinner on Monday.

MRS. LAVENIA M. WELLER

Mrs. Weller is capable of reading, eating, and doing the other things of life very readily. It is a part of her routine each day to write a number of letters to her wide circle of friends and relatives.

It is interesting to note that Mrs. Weller owns a pair of eye glasses but removes them when reading, writing, or doing any type of work.

New Castle Man Home From U. S. Navy Service In China's War Zone

Harold O'Neil, of 509 West North street, arrived in New Castle, Tuesday, to spend a 30-day leave of absence from the United States Navy, after service in China.

O'Neil has been for several months serving aboard the U.S.S. Ramapo, which was working up and down the Whangpoo river, in the vicinity of Shanghai, China.

While in the China territory, O'Neil witnessed much of the fighting going on there. He says that most everything up and down the river is destroyed.

Every settlement, building, and city has been the target of the Japanese bombs at some time since the conflict began. According to O'Neil two or three bombing raids were conducted nightly over the Shanghai area, spreading destruction in their wake.

The horizon in all directions at night was brightly lighted with burning towns and buildings, set aflame by the falling bombs.

According to O'Neil nothing remains of the Chinese navy, which was destroyed early in the conflict. The Japanese ships were continually steaming up and down the Whangpoo, firing bombs into the cities on land.

All of the American ships in that area have the United States colors plainly visible at all times, and at night they are illuminated with huge flood lights. When the Japanese ships, firing on shore, pass American boats, they ceased firing until completely out of range of the U. S. craft.

Liberty to go ashore in Shanghai was very much restricted to the sailors. O'Neil was ashore once during his stay in China and visited the International Settlement in Shanghai.

"Death and destruction are seen on all sides", said O'Neil. "Bodies of women and children, soldiers and innocent citizens are continually floating down the river, from the town above," this is the story told by the local youth.

This is O'Neil's first visit to New Castle in five years. He will leave on January 3, at which time his leave comes to an end, and join his ship at San Diego. It is probable that he will again return to the China area for service at the end of the furlough.

Robinsons Are Found In Russia

Couple Supposed Missing In Soviet Russia Were Masquerading Under False Passports

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The strange mystery of the supposed disappearance of an American couple, Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Robinson of New York City, in Moscow was solved today by the American State Department.

The couple, who disappeared in the Soviet capital, the State Department officially announced, were masquerading under false passports.

Completing a lengthy and intensive investigation, the State Department declared that the passports issued in the names of Donald Louis Robinson and Ruth Noma Robinson were issued to the couple "on the basis of documents belonging to other persons who are now deceased."

"The Department of State is not aware of the true identity or nationality of the persons who bear these passports," the official state department announcement read.

HORSE SENSE WILL HELP TO REDUCE HUNTING ACCIDENTS

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—That rare trait horse sense, is vital in reducing accidents during the hunting season according to a statement issued by the Indiana State Medical Association.

"Prevention of accidents calls for horse sense, a rare commodity, as seen from the frequent changing of seats in a boat, dragging a gun, muzzle foremost over a fence or through the brush, or carrying loaded guns in improper positions," the bulletin said.

"After accidents have happened the serious ones will receive prompt attention and need no further mention. It is the slight wounds, so-called trivial injuries that are so often neglected. Gunshot shells contain wadding made of horse hair and therefore wounds from gunshot shells are liable to contain tetanus germs."

The bulletin also warned against the dangers of incurring tularemia from rabbits.

"Rabbits which run slowly may be suspected of being ill and no apparently ill rabbit should be touched" the bulletin continued. "The germ that causes rabbit fever or tularemia gets into the human system through a break in the skin. No rabbit should be cleaned without wearing rubber gloves. Cooking destroys the infection."

Mohair is the commercial name for fleece of the angora goat.

Defenders Of Nanking Have Made Escape

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Dec. 14.—The 250,000 defenders of Nanking tonight escaped from Japan's clutches and fell back to new positions.

Covered by a "model division" in Pukow, whose officers are former students in America and Europe, the army of Gen. Tang withdrew farther inland for a fresh stand.

They will be reinforced by 50,000 of "Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's own," who will attempt to extend the Japanese lines into the interior, where the Japanese will be subject to sharp, quick attacks along the lines of strategy laid down by German military advisors.

Before the eyes of a handful of American missionaries, meanwhile, Japanese troops executed scores in Nanking, terrorizing the "safety zone" established there for foreigners.

Any seeming Chinese refugee who was wounded recently or who wore any apparently military garments was shot down.

Firemen Help the Snow-Bound Stork

Three expectant mothers were rescued from snow-bound Rosedale Riding Academy, Eggertsville, N. Y., by this party of firemen. The fire-fighters led the way over snow-buried, wind-swept Niagara Falls Boulevard, and the ambulance bearing the three mothers-to-be rushed them to the safety of Buffalo City Hospital. Nearly two score deaths have been caused by the Eastern cold wave.

Former Ellwood City Boy Burned To Death

Otis McCormick Dies In Fire; Mother And Brothers Are Injured

In a fire that completely destroyed the residence at Lancaster, O., Otis McCormick, aged about 19 years, nephew of James Plum, of East Washington street, and Will Plum of Winslow avenue, this city, was burned to death, and his mother, and three brothers were taken to a hospital suffering from burns, exposure and injuries.

Mrs. Maud McCormick, the mother, widow of Theodore McCormick, who died three years ago, is a former resident of the Ellwood road and of Ellwood City. The family lived in this county until about four years ago. News of the tragic fire, which took the life of one of the boys is received with sorrow by the many local friends.

Mrs. McCormick is reported to be in a serious condition. Russell has a broken foot and a painful sprain, Paul has a broken arm and cut foot, and Mervin's feet were badly frozen. (The family had to crawl in the snow to summon aid after all had escaped except Otis.)

Landon Praises Roosevelt For Far East Stand

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—"I'm for the president."

In those few simple words, former Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas today endorsed President Roosevelt's direct action in the "international incident" brought about by sinking of the American gunboat Panay by Japanese bombs.

"Politics ends at the water's edge," said the man who opposed the president in the last national election and who has many times criticized his policies. "In matters like this there is only one place for all of us to be—that is behind our president."

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Look Ahead In South America

Stewart Raises Question Of What Might Happen If Brazil Has Civil War

MONROE DOCTRINE HELD IN DANGER

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Charles A. Thomson's warning that Brazil conceivably may be transformed into a second Spain, right in Uncle Sam's own dooryard, is worthy of more than a passing thought.

Thomson, as a spokesman for the Foreign Policy association, made his talk at a recent gathering of George Washington university's Inter-American Center, here in the capital.

He may not have intended it so, but what he said really amounted to an answer to a preceding address by Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, who argued that President Vargas' establishment, a short time ago, of a Brazilian dictatorship is nothing for the United States seriously to worry about. While we would tolerate no overseas interference in New World affairs, such internal readjustments as our Latin neighbors see fit to make in their various governmental setups are none of our business.

As to internal readjustments "o. k.", agreed Thomson. But he raised the point that this particular Brazilian readjustment threatens overseas interference.

WHAT OF MONROE DOCTRINE?

I have a high respect for Sumner Welles' Latin American judgments. He has passed considerable time in our diplomatic service to the south of Key West, and knows our friends there thoroughly. He has the reputation of being somewhat tolerant of dictatorial regimes, but he is correct in asserting that the Latin temperament is different from ours, and that we must make allowances for it.

All the same, I never would suspect him of regarding any infringement of the Monroe doctrine with indifference.

And Thomson's version is that the Monroe doctrine is in more than a little peril of having its toes stepped on in Brazil, and maybe in some other southerly republics. To one who has lived in them for a number of years, as I have, it seems at least possible.

SUPPOSE?

President Vargas of Brazil announces that he is neither Fascist, Nazi-istic nor Communistic.

It is true that he is not a Communist; violently to the contrary. And perhaps he is not an outright Fascist or a Nazi, but his philosophy sounds a good bit like theirs. Reports from Rome and Berlin imply that Mussolini and Hitler regard him favorably.

Now, suppose there would be a revolt against his dictatorship.

Wouldn't Mussolini and Hitler be tempted to help him? And would he not be tempted to appeal to them for assistance?

JAPAN UNPOPULAR

Thomson mentioned Japan, as well as Italy and Germany.

Japan does not signify in Latin America. There are Japanese there in formidable numbers, but they are not locally popular, any more than they are in this country. Anyway, the mikado is too much occupied with the Orient to bother with the New World at present.

Italian and German public opinion, however, is strongly intrenched in southern Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina.

IF CIVIL WAR, THEN—?

Well, assume that northern and western Brazil rebel against the Vargas dictatorship. They already show signs of doing so. Their local potentates oppose Vargas' domination. President Vargas faces the chances of an ugly civil war—as I previously have predicted.

Vargas is strong in the south, but he will need aid to the northward, or his country will split into two separate countries.

What could be more natural than for him to ask for assistance from Italy and Germany?—as the Spanish rebels have asked for (and obtained it) in the Iberian peninsula.

Answer?—civil war in Brazil, as in Spain; with Italians and Germans as Fascist-Nazi-ists.

It would not be official, any more than in Spain—but it would be actual.

MIGHT SPREAD

Such a row could spread all up and down the South American west coast.

It would not extend far into the interior, but it would involve such capital cities as Para, Pernambuco, Bahia, Rio de Janeiro, Santos, Puerta Alegre, Montevideo and Buenos Aires.

With Italian and German ships running supplies and men to the belligerents!—as on the Spanish coast!—and sinking neutral vessels!—as in the Mediterranean! It would be calculated to get Uncle Sam's goat, would it not?—no matter how neutral he might prefer to be. It surely would strain the Monroe doctrine.

That is the prospect which worries C. A. Thomson of the Foreign Policy association.

Coming "Messiah" Performance Gains Wide Interest Here

Twelve Choruses Prepared To Appear In "Messiah" Performance December 30

Much interest on all sides is being manifested in the coming full performance of the "Messiah," by George Frederic Handel, which will be presented by the choir of the First United Presbyterian church on Thursday evening, December 30, in the church auditorium.

With the twelve choruses well prepared, and soloists in rehearsal, indications point to a finished, inspiring performance. This is the first time in many years that a performance in full of the "Messiah" has been given locally.

It has been scheduled after Christmas with the thought that those who attend will enjoy it to a fuller extent if it is heard after the hurry and bustle of the holiday is over.

A. Alfred Taylor, organist and choirmaster at the First U. P. church, is directing the performance, and will preside at the organ the entire evening.

At a recent fur show in London a socialite wore a coat made of 400 mouse skins.

Imposing Library Is Nearing Completion

Interior Finishing Rushed; New Money Grant Expected Shortly

While its interior begins to look more like an imposing library with every passing day, New Castle's new Free Public library at North Mercer and North streets remains without an opening date. The nature of the building work prevents the establishment of a definite time for its public inspection.

Workmen were placing linoleum on the main floor today and within a few days the erection of ceiling-high racks in the main book room will begin.

Today's work, it was learned, finishes up a government appropriation for the work made months ago. Those in charge, however, are confident another project appropriation, on file in Washington, will be approved this week to permit the work to proceed.

New Tunnel Open Wednesday Dec. 22

On December 22 a new entrance to New York City will be thrown open to the public the Lincoln Tunnel and through the use of it motorists from the west can enter New York City between 38th and 40th street. Announcement of the opening was received today by the New Castle Motor Club.

The new tunnel is entered from the west at Weehawken, N. J. To get to it driving from New Castle one goes by the way of Easton, Pa. and Phillipsburg, N. J. At Phillipsburg take route 24 to Hacketstown, then route 46 into Paterson and from Paterson follow route No 1 to Ridgefield.

Only one tunnel of the new connection will be opened on December 22. The other is still in course of construction.

The American moose, largest member of the deer family, reaches a height of 84 inches at the shoulders.

Relief Load Climbs Higher

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 14.—Pennsylvania's relief load climbed back to its early October level the week ending December 4, with a net increase of 4,918 cases, attributed mainly to industrial recession and seasonal employment losses.

Relief applications during the week, Secretary of Public Assistance Karl De Schweinitz announced, passed the 13,000 mark for the first time since the period immediately following the spring floods of 1936. Western Pennsylvania was hit hardest in the relief surge.

The week's "relief turnover" left a total of 149,900 cases, or 462,132 persons, on the state dole. De Schweinitz reported the week's expenditures for direct relief were $1,116,153, or an average of $2.42 per recipient."

"SOCK" THAT COLD
before It Sacks You!

Don't take a cold lightly. Don't be namby-pamby in your treatment.

A cold is an extremely serious thing and may end in something grave.

Treat a cold promptly. Treat it for what it is—an internal infection.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets) are what you want for a cold!

First of all, they are a distinct cold medicine, made for colds and nothing else. "Cure-alls" may be treacherous.

Secondly, Bromo Quinine tablets are internal medication. They do an inside job, which is what you want.

Fourfold in Effect!

Bromo Quinine tablets do four important things in the treatment of a cold.

First, they open the bowels.

Second, they check the infection in the system.

Third, they relieve the headache and fever.

Fourth, they tone the system and help fortify against further attack.

Don't Dilly-Dally!

Don't procrastinate with a cold. As soon as you feel the first signs, go right to your druggist for a box of Bromo Quinine tablets.

Taken promptly, these tablets will break up a cold in 24 hours, and that's the action you want.

Bromo Quinine tablets are nothing new or untried. They have been on the market for over 40 years and are the world's largest-selling cold tablets. That's proof of their dependability.

"Safety First"!

Bromo Quinine tablets now come sugar-coated as well as plain. Both kinds are sold by all druggists, a few cents a box.

When a cold threatens, go right for Bromo Quinine tablets. Ask for —and insist upon getting—Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets). Substitutes are never the real thing!

Busy Schedule At Westminster

Students Prepare For Holiday Vacation To Start On December 17

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 14.—With the coming of the Christmas vacation beginning Friday, Dec. 17, Westminster college organizations will crowd a busy schedule through this week. Classes will not resume until Tuesday, January 4.

The French club held its Christmas meeting on Monday evening in Browne hall, featuring a program composed of Christmas carols: "Christmas In France," by several members, and Christmas games and contests. Miss Jean Heinrich, Oberlin, O., was in charge of the party.

Under the auspices of the A. A. U. W. and the direction of Prof. Alan B. Davis, the New Wilmington Choral union, including students, faculty and district members, will present Handel's "Messiah" Tuesday evening, Dec. 14, in the U. P. church at 8:15. No admission will be charged, but a voluntary offering will be taken for the children's room in the new library and an annual A. A. U. W. scholarship to a Westminster junior girl.

At 6:30 Wednesday evening, Professor Gordon Balch Nevin will play a Christmas organ vesper service under the auspices of the YMCA and YWCA. On the same evening the Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity will hold a dinner-dance at the Field club, New Castle.

In chapel Thursday morning at 10:45, Russ Hoogerhyde, national archery champion, will talk on "The Romance of Archery" and demonstrate archery form. At 8 o'clock in the evening, Kappa Delta Pi, national educational fraternity, will meet at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Dewey to draw up a chapter constitution and select a delegate to the national convention in Atlantic City in February. Christmas carols will be sung on the south terrace of Old Main at 11:30 Thursday evening, under the auspices of Orpheus, music fraternity; co-eds will be given late permission for the affair.

The A. A. U. W. will hold its Christmas party at the home of Mrs. E. B. Russell, Thursday evening, with the program in the form of an international affairs question bee, in charge of the international relations committee. Miss Florence White, department of French, is chairman of the committee.

Classes will be dismissed at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, so that students in the Pittsburgh district attending the Westminster-Carnegie Tech game in Pittsburgh Friday night will not have to return to the campus Saturday morning for classes.

STATE OFFICERS MAKE TWO ARRESTS

State Motor Policemen Gibbons and Yahnner, and Constable Andrew Fair yesterday afternoon arrested Rudy Gennock, of New Castle, and Charles Heidenrich, of Pittsburgh on charges of operating a lottery in connestion with numbers they reported today. The arrest was made at Willow Grove. Each put up bail before Squire James C. Brice for their appearance in court.

Chart Show Merchant Marine Dip

United States Merchant Marine Now Reduced To Very Lowly State

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON — A vivid graph hanging in the office of the United States Maritime Commission here provides daily reminder to the commission members and employes that America's Merchant Marine has fallen to lowly state in the past half century.

The big graph, done in bright colors, does not pretend to show to what extent this nation's merchant fleets have lost foreign business. It does show how American bottoms have lost out in the American field of carrying United States products abroad. The chart shows specifically the percentage of America's foreign trade handled in United States Merchant ships.

It follows:

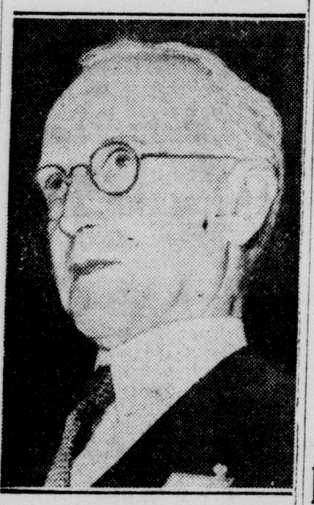

1830	89.9
1840	82.9
1850	72.5
1860	66.5

The popular combination of black and gold is used by Sally Eilers, moving picture actress, in a street dress of black Rusticana crepe. Gold kid straps and buckles accent the high neckline and slender waist. A softly draped bodice and smartly flared skirt are notable fashion points.

Report Auto Tax Averages Dime An Hour

Tax Collector Gets Ten Cents For Every Hour Of Your Vacation Trip

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Using your car for the vacation trip?

If you are, itemize $0.10 every hour for the tax collector.

The American Petroleum Industries committee reported today that the average automobile used on vacations this summer will net the tax man between 10 and 11 cents every hour it is in use.

An average automobile that does 15 miles to every gallon of gasoline and averages 30 miles an hour speed, will use two gallons of gas every hour. Since the average tax per gallon is 5.4 cents, the tax collector gets nearly 11 cents.

Taxes Blow To Trade

The committee also reported that growing automobile taxes are acting as "Knock-out drops" to the volume of trade done during vacation periods.

The average daily expenditure for the motor tourist is estimated at $7. This money is received by hotels, tourists camps, roadstands, restaurant, amusement resorts, confectionery and other retail stores. The volume of trade devoloped is estimated at various figures in the billion-dollar class.

But if the 10,000,000 automobiles estimated used annually for an average of 1200 miles of vacation touring, continue to yield $43,200,000 in taxes alone, motor touring will fall off with a resultant business decline, according to the committee.

OLDEST AIRLINE HOLDS 11-YEAR SAFETY RECORD

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—After eleven years of continuous operation without a passenger fatality, and with a recent citation by the National Safety Council for its record, Northwest Airlines will celebrate its anniversary here this month as the oldest aerial transportation system in the United States.

Marking the airline's anniversary will be the appearance in New York for the first time of its new high-speed transport plane, the Sky Zephyr, recently rated by the U. S. Department of Commerce as the "fastest transport plane in the world." The plane has top speed of 260 miles and cruising speed of 230 miles an hour.

Later the ship will take off for Washington for inspection by government officials. Official interest in the transport plane lies in the fact that it is convertible almost overnight into a full armed bomber. In time of war the Zephyr, a two-motored 1700 horsepowered engine, is designed to carry a load of almost 4,000 pounds of bombs, a crew of four and six .30 calibre machine guns.

PIPE-SMOKING BULL TERRIER ROUTS POSSUM

(International News Service)

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Stranger things may have happened to some dogs, but not to Jiggs, a 7-year-old bull who specializes in pleasing his master by smoking a pipe, wearing a hat and nodding the difference between $5 and $1 bills.

Jiggs was recessing from his routine one noon not long ago and came upon a possum perched in a magnolia tree in the Jefferson county courthouse lawn, located in the heart of the business district.

Where the possum came from no one knew, but Jiggs had him treed just the same. Jiggs' master, Elmer Harley, held Jiggs while some boys shook Mr. Possum from the tree. Incidentally they learned there is such a thing as a possum playing possum, because as long as the animal remained on the ground he was 'dead', but when lifted back into the tree he was very much alive.

The session ended with Jiggs' disappointment because he didn't get his teeth in the possum, a pleasure enjoyed by the boys who found a roasting pan and sweet potatoes.

MODELS' UNION TO DEMAND MORE TIME FOR MAKEUP

SAN FRANCISCO—With "more time for makeup" as its battle cry, San Francisco's newest union, the San Francisco Models' association, was recently organized.

The pulchritudinous members have associated, with bylaws, monthly dues and everything.

"So far, we are not really a labor organization," Miss Vivian Paige, president, explains. "The question of affiliating with C. I. O. or A. F. of L. is not before us."

Additional purposes of the association will be to gain better wages, hours and working conditions, Miss Paige said. A placement bureau also is planned.

There's one thing, however, that the member beauties will not go for, despite their union affiliation, it was emphasized.

They definitely will not wear union suits.

Confesses To Sixth Murder

Eugene Weidmann Modern "Bluebeard" Calmly Confesses Killing Of Woman

SKATES FOUND, FURNISH CLUE

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Dec. 14—Calmly confessing to his sixth murder—another woman—"Bluebeard" Eugene Weidmann, promised police he would "tell his whole story and name his accomplices."

The latest victim admitted by Weidmann as he sat in the cell once occupied by Henri Landru, was Mme. Janine Keller, 30-year old Alsatian.

Police at the same time revealed they would quiz Weidmann in connection with three other murders as well as seek to learn the fate of 11 women articles of whose clothing were found in Weidmann's villa at St. Cloud.

The "bluebeard," slayer of Miss Jean De Koven, Brooklyn dancer, blandly admitted that he killed Mme. Keller, after he was confronted with a pair of ice skates discovered in the villa.

The murdered woman, estranged from her husband, came to Strasbourg October 2. After answering an advertisement for a governess to serve a family in South America.

Seek Woman Who Has Money Coming From Government

Red Cross Chapter Asked To Locate Mrs. Nellie Kwolek Of This City

Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, has been asked to locate Mrs. Nellie Kwolek in this city, so that she may receive the money due her on her brother's adjusted compensation, amounting to several hundred dollars.

She is the sister of Anthony Walton, who died several years ago in Farrell, and who named her as his beneficiary.

Her last known address was 1658 Pennsylvania avenue, and it is believed that she has remarried and is living somewhere in New Castle. Anyone knowing Mrs. Kwolek's whereabouts, is asked to communicate with the Red Cross chapter on South Mercer street.

Complete Murder Case Jury At Night Session

JURORS ACCEPTED

James Laughlin, laborer, Big Beaver.
Samuel N. Carr, painter, 4th ward.
Paul Benninghoff, baker, 3rd ward.
George Young, farmer, Hickory.
Ralph Jordan, salesman, 2nd ward.
Homer Buchanan, foreman, Taylor.
Thomas Anderson, laborer, South New Castle.
John Thatcher, laborer, Union.
R. S. Van Eman, farmer, Shenango.
John Toth, laborer, Taylor.
James Shaw, laborer, 4th ward.
Reva Gormley, housekeeper, 2nd ward.

With only two names left in the panel, the jury of 12 to try Mrs. Rose Donofrio for the murder of her son-in-lam James Aiello, was completed at 8:45 Monday night in court room number one of the Lawrence county court house. The taking of testimony started early today.

The selection of the jury started at one o'clock Monday afternoon. Eleven of the panel of 70 had been excused for various reasons leaving 59 from which to get the jury. A number of those called had scruples against capital punishment. Others had formed opinions which they said could not be put aside and still others were challenged peremptorily which meant they were excused without reasons being assigned.

Exhaust Panel

Following the selection of Reva Gormley, the 12th juror and the only woman in the jury box, counsel for both sides agreed to draw an optional juror, which is now permitted under the law. This 13th juror would sit with the jury and take part in the deliberations but would not be used except in case of illness on the part of one of the 12 jurors. The two examined failed to qualify, exhausting the panel. Counsel then agreed that in order to avoid the expense of a special panel of talesmen they would forego the optional juror.

The following jurors were called and were excused for various reasons: Zack Allerton, 1st ward; Joseph M. Anderson, 1st ward; James Atkinson, Union; Eva Baldwin, Shenango; R. J. Benson, 4th ward; Anthony Bowers, Union; Mildred Brandon, Ellwood; David Brenneman, Washington; Icey Burkholder, 2nd ward; Michael Chabak, 8th ward; Katherine Chip, 1st ward; Fred Clare, Shenango; Frank Cover, Sr., Pulaski; John B. Color Marks Chickens' Sex

By breeding a Rhode Island Red rooster and a Light Sussex hen, Charles W. Knox, senior poultry geneticist of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture, claims it is possible to distinguish the sex of day-old chicks by their color. Given Orders To Place 35,000 Men

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 14—State WPA Administrator J. Banks Hudson announced Monday he had instructed all district and area offices to place as quickly as possible the additional 35,000 men allowed Pennsylvania under the 350,000-job nationwide WPA expansion.

The nationwide authorization was made by Harry L. Hopkins, federal WPA administrator. Of its $23,000,000 a month increase, Hudson said, Pennsylvania will get about $2,175,000 or 10 per cent.

Hudson pointed out the increase would not necessarily mean new projects, but rather replacements for jobs eliminated in the recent WPA "purge."

Will Have Roles In Senior Play

January Graduates To Present "Life Begins At Sixteen" Friday Night

Jean Waddington Fred Allen

Jean Waddington as Mrs. Jessie Hollis and Fred Allen as her husband, Harry Hollis, play opposite one another in the senior class play, "Life Begins at Sixteen". They are the parents of twins, a boy and a girl, for whom an exciting life begins at 16 when the parents start off for a month's vacation in Havana. Of the 15 roles in the play, these two are the only characters over 21. "Life Begins at Sixteen" is decidedly a comedy of youth.

Jean Waddington is one of the well-known members of the January graduates. She is captain of her class basketball team and is a member of the following clubs: Girl Reserves, Leaders club, Rooters club, French club and her class volley ball team. She is a squad leader for the girls' physical training classes and was chosen for the girls' physical training exhibition last spring. Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Waddington of Albert street.

Fred Allen also has in his own proper person begun life very actively as vice-president of the Senior Hi-Y and as a member of the Ne-Ca-Hi staff and of his class basketball team. He is a monitor in the student government organization. He held the position of track manager last last spring. Fred is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Allen of Norwood avenue.

'Kettles' To Cheer Families Of Needy

Salvation Army Says Public Donating Well; Helps Yule Work

"Generous contributors are keeping our money pots boiling these cold days," reported Captain Clifford Scoffield of the Salvation Army here as he again called the public's attention to the Army's Christmas kettles on downtown streets.

"The public knows the tinkle of the Army bell. This week our girls are wearing bright, warm red capes for the first time in New Castle—they're Salvation Army traditions," he said.

Money dropped into the kettles, Scoffield said, will buy Christmas baskets for needy families of this district.

The Army is also raising funds for the big "mayor's Christmas party" for 600 worthy tots in the Penn threater Christmas Day.

What do our people most desire? Well, Hoover lost because the people lost money; Roosevelt won reelection by convincing people that he brought back prosperity.

No wonder white nations hate to see Japan conquer China. You'd hate to see anybody steal the cow you have been milking.

Hollywood Is Tiring To Some

New Yorkers Get Tired Of Sunshine And Long For Excitement Of Times Square

BIG GAMBLERS BECOME FEWER

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—The defenders of Broadway, so shockingly depopulated by the Hollywood hegira, insist that those who have made the trek soon tire of the sunshine, the Spanish palazzio and mosaic-lined swimming pool. And in a short time are sighing for Times Square.

O. O. McIntyre

Yet when Sidney Skolsky, a confirmed Broadwayite, was reassigned to the street after four years in Hollywood by his paper, he chucked his job with the ringing accolade: "Broadway is dead!" While it may not be completely moribund it is absurd to claim the old time lure.

Only a skeleton of the legitimate theatre is left for the danse Macabre. It takes a top notch stage star to make $1,000 a week—a stipend that would receive merry ha ha across the Mojave. Too, on the coast they are soon converted to the pleasure of simplicity, early up, early to bed.

It is true some of the old timers develop a nostaglia for former scenes and they come back, lounge about the Lambs, stroll along a Broadway that has become largely honky-tonk, and in a few days are quite ready to hit the old Santa Fe trail again.

Corey Ford's correspondence letterheads at his retreat near Freedom, New Hampshire, where he turns out his corking stories, are gotten up in the manner of the Ozark county store. They are weighty with such homely trade boosting axioms as: "A Ford writ story is a good writ story. Get your writings off Ford." And: "All kinds of writing done quick and neat." Across the bottom is strung this: "Rabbit hounds, bird dogs, guns, cameras, fishing tackle, bot, sold and swopped." Ford's roommate and companion during his New York days is also a literary isolationist. Being Frank Sullivan, who cannot be budged out of his native Saratoga Springs.

New York no longer has any outstanding Cameo Kirbys. Such as Richard Canfield, Honest John Kelley and the like. The only notorious gambler I ever met was Arnold Rothstein, who, pistoled in a New York hotel, refused to name his assassins. He had written a courteous note about something in my column and suggested I drop in to see him if in his neighborhood. His stationery read "Insurance Broker". I had, of course, seen him around, a fellow with fever-bright eyes in a face the sickly shade of a flounder's belly. In restaurants he always demanded a seat with back to wall and invariably traveled with his bodyguard I never got around to calling, but one evening in a drug store off Times Square a mutual friend introduced us. He was soft-voiced, quite shy and with a few exchanges of monosyllabic talk seemed anxious to hurry on. In restaurants afterward when I was there he would frequently send over a waiter to suggest a complimentary bottle of wine. But never, wherever we were, did he offer to speak, and if I caught his eye he would look quickly away.

Most of the romanzas about the sleep and dapper Nick the Greek have the Paul Bunyan genesis. Reputedly a wizard with dice, he is often rumored to arrive in town and risk $100,000 on a single throw. Also frequently rated as worth $500,000 one day and making a quick touch for fare to Philadelphia the next. Yet a gambling fellow tells me he is one of the showy players and rarely loses or wins more than $500, but the impression is etched that he is a reckless plunger.

Experts in reactions to gambling say Flo Ziegfeld could win or lose a huge amount with less emotional reaction than anyone who enjoyed betting as a diversion. Win or lose, there was not a flicker of a change in his facial expression. He used to play in the highest stake poker game in town, one indulged by a select coterie of millionaires at an upper avenue hotel. He was desperate one night for funds to launch a current Follies, and when the last hand was played at 3 a. m. he was $80,000 loser. Yet he went sound asleep driving to his hotel, nine blocks away.

I sympathize with mumblers along the highway. Give me a desolate block on a dark night and I'll probably talk out loud. Tonight a mumbler ahead was saying: "I'm not so handsome, but I'm as purty as the mug she married." That was a-tellin' 'em! Eh, fat lady?

Girls Continue To Pursue Bob

Even Fact That Handsome Robert Taylor Needed Shave, Didn't Stop Girls

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—Girls will be girls.

They mobbed Robert Taylor again Monday as the screen lad who makes feminine hearts go thumety-thump arrived home aboard the liner Queen Mary after doing his stuff in England.

Nobody thought it would happen because the liner docked at a time when conscientious stenographers and shopgirls should be at their proper places and dutiful housewives ought to be washing breakfast dishes.

Even Robert didn't expect it because he badly needed a shave. But he ran into flying squadron of several score of beautiful young things. They made a dive for Robert. They screamed and coo-ed. They clutched eagerly for his hands. They tore at his clothes. They pleaded poignantly for a teeny-weeny autograph.

But Robert counter-charged thru with a gallant smile and the assistance of a detective and police guard.

Highland U. P. Men Organizing Tonight

A permanent brotherhood group for the men of the Highland U. P. church will be perfected at a gathering in the church assembly room tonight at 8. Officers will be chosen; an address by Bob White, Pittsburgh radio speaker, heard, and lunch enjoyed at the close. Robert L. Wallace, temporary chairman of the group, will preside.

Simile for today: As rare as a radio announcer's calling anybody mister.

To Relieve Bad Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

Better Results, and Saves Big Money. Easily Mixed.

You'll never know how quickly and easily you can overcome coughs due to colds, until you try this famous recipe. It gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money, and you'll find it the finest thing you ever tried, for real relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's no trouble at all. Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle. Add your syrup and you have a full pint of medicine that will amaz you by its quick action. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time, and tastes fine—children love it.

This simple mixture takes right hold of a severe cough. For real results, you've never seen its equal. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed membranes, and quickly eases soreness and difficult breathing.

Pinex is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, famous for its prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Germany Chaotic, Rotarians Told

Black Listed Editor, Dr. Schoenstedt, Speaker At Luncheon

Declaring that "I am not here to speak against Germany but against Hitler, "Dr. Walter Schoenstedt, German editor and lecturer, banned in that country, appeared before the Rotary club in The Castleton Monday to relate events transpiring in his native land.

Introduced by Rotarian Emanuel Shenkan, Dr. Schoenstedt, who speaks excellent English slowly, referred to the "great tragedy" which has fallen over the German youth and of other evils of Hitler's dictatorship.

Dr. Schoenstedt, an author, has several books to his credit. One of them was destroyed in Hitler's mad book-burning. He himself was placed upon Hitler's black list and a warrant issued for his arrest. Storm troopers failed in their attempt to find him, and he escaped Several times later he secretly crossed the German border, but when his name was listed among those guilty of high treason, he departed definitely. In 1935 he came to the United States, and here friends continue to aid him.

Rotarian William J. Caldwell, before the speech of the day, obligated Arthur E. Heizman, local representative for the National Cash Register company, as a member. His induction was brief.

Vice President John B. Offutt, who presided, called upon the members to bring a small Christmas gift with them to the December 20 meeting for delivery to the youngsters of the Margaret L. Henry home.

A nice way of introducing two or three color combinations into an evening dress is to take scarfs of the dress fabrics and wind and knot them closely over the bust, shoulders and diaphragm to form the bodice It is being done in a number of new dresses.

Success is largely a matter of luck. It isn't intelligence that makes a boy fall in love with a smart, ambitious girl.

Ferry Boats Doomed By Giant Bridge

Colorful Fleet Of The Olden Days Will Soon Pass Away

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO—It's the Twilight of the Ferries in this bridge-minded metropolis.

The ferryboats of San Francisco bay—a colorful old fleet known to millions of tourists over the last century as the bay's most picturesque complement—are disappearing at last.

These white, snub-nosed commuters which have borne humanity to and from San Francisco for better than a hundred years, are gliding into increasing obscurity with each passing day.

All because—

The pneumatic hammers which drove the rivets fastening together the two giant bridges across San Francisco bay sounded the metallic death knell of the ferryboat.

Foghorns On Way Out.

Similarly, the throaty foghorns, those eerie voices which San Franciscans love and consider as important an auditory feature of the bay as the ferries themselves are a part of the picture, are tooting their swan song.

Stern arithmetic is slowly but inevitably banishing the entire caravan of romance and beauty from the bay which the Spaniards opened to commerce.

It is becoming unprofitable to operate many of the ferries.

A party dress or coat for the miss in her teens would be a very much appreciated Christmas present.

Patriotic Program Attended By 338 Members Of County's 12 Granges

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 14—For the final "travelling flag" program of the year, members of the Pleasant Hill grange presented the flag to the Westfield grange, with a most appropriate patriotic program on Monday evening.

There was a total of 338 grangers in attendance representing the county's 12 granges with 94 of the total attendance being members of the local grange. Twenty-five grangers have attended all twelve of the programs during the past year.

Under the capable supervision of their lecturer, Mrs. Jane Friday, the local grange presented the following program that was very well received by the large audience:

Song, "Pennsylvania" —Audience.

Reading, "Molly Pitcher"—Miss Betty Friday.

Reading, "Dolly Madison, the Uncrowned Queen"—Miss Lillian Jones

An impersonation of Abraham Lincoln—Mark McConnell.

A pageant, "March of the Nations"—Anna Weisz, Frances Worrell, Dorothy Barnett, Elsie Lyons, Cloy Aiken, Beverly Shaffer, Florence Weingartner, Helen McElwain, Luella Jones, Acie Wagner, Lilabelle Weisz, Helen Weisz and Margaret Walker.

Singing for the pageant—Chauncey Boots, Eugene Fox, Albert Boots, Howard Aiken, Mrs. Mont Hazen, Mrs. Harry Boots, and Otto Wagner.

Earl Friday, master of the Pleasant Hill grange, presented the flag to Errol Fullerton, mastor of the Westfield grange, who responded in a fitting manner.

In the near future, the flag will be awarded to the grange that fulfilled the most requirements of the contest.

An enjoyable social hour followed with the ladies of the Westfield grange serving a delicious repast.

On Thursday evening, members of the local grange will hold their regular meeting, which will feature an exchange of Christmas gifts.

Santa Claus Is Welcomed Monday

Hundreds Line Streets To Greet Old Santa On Arrival In Ellwood

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 14.—Hundreds of kiddies and adults lined the business section last night to welcome good old Santa Claus to Ellwood City. Santa arrived by plane at 6:15 p. m. and was greeted at the landing field by Burgess Sitler, Merchants Christmas Promotional Chairman Paul Reynolds and Chamber Secretary Denny Schill. Escorted to an awaiting car and headed by the V. F. W. junior drum and bugle corps, Santa was greeted amidst a thunder of cheers as he passed up Lawrence avenue.

The procession stopped in front of the Municipal building steps, where Santa was greeted by the high school band, which played several Christmas selections. Burgess Sitler presented Santa with the key to the city and officially welcomed him to the city.

Santa and his huge throng of followers were then greeted by the Kiwanis Glee club under the direction of Robert Taylor.

The Kiwanis Glee club sang several beautiful Christmas carols and their concert was sincerely appreciated by the vast audience. This glee club, which is still in its infancy, has a great future ahead of it and the club will be a graet asset to the city.

As for the business section Christmas lighting, it is without a doubt the finest lighting that the town has ever had in its history. The merchants and borough officials in selecting the lighting this year have a skeleton plan that can be added to each year, and in a few years nothing around this section will be able to touch the beauty of Ellwood's Christmas lighting.

During a brief business meeting, plans were made to give a Christmas basket to a needy family.

No definite time or place was determined for the next meeting, as the class is to be re-organized in the near future.

Edmund E. Marchall to Melvin I. Livingston, Scott, $1.

Attorney C. W. Fenton called at the county treasurer's office this morning and secured dog license No. 1 for 1938. County Treasurer Joseph Hartland had just received a consignment of licenses from Harrisburg, and any person who desires can now get them. All persons owning dogs are expected to have their licenses by January 15, 1938. William H. Goehring of New Brighton is the new dog law enforcer for this district. He will start making a roundup of those who do not secure licenses by January 15th. County Treasurer Hartland announces that 8,022 licenses were issued in 1937. This is a record number in Lawrence county.

Fifty-one instruments of all kinds were entered at the register and recorder's office last week. Of this number 22 were deeds, 13 were mortgages. Six of the mortgages were given to building and loan associations for a total amount of $19,000; six, totaling $9,144, were given to individuals and one for $500 was given to a bank. The number to individuals is larger than usual, indicating a growing popularity of this form of investment. In the recent months the majority of mortgages have been given to building and loan associations. Many people prefer this form of mortgages, as it affords an opportunity to reduce the principal each month.

Will of the late Catherine Taylor of the eighth ward has been admitted to probate at the register and recorder's office. To her daughter, Ella Mary Taylor, the decedent left her house and lot at 111 Terrace avenue. Another house and lot at 103 Terrace avenue was left to a son, Harry H. Taylor, as long as he keeps up the taxes, repairs and pays $60 per year. At his death or failure to observe the provisions of the will, the property goes to decedents' sons, Harry, Samuel and Benjamin Taylor, or their children.

The county welfare department has succeeded in getting Mrs. Anna Hasson, also known as Mrs. Anna Ross, and her three children placed on Westmoreland county, where she had a residence before coming to New Castle. They were taken to Westmoreland county Saturday by Deputy M. B. Hogue at the direction of Welfare Director Edwin Reed. The welfare department, with Parole Officer Jack M. Dunlap and County Detective A. Sharp Leslie, have had considerable trouble with this case. After Mr. Hasson's death Mrs. Hasson married Ross. The family had been securing relief, and this was continued after Mrs. Hasson married Ross. When the authorities learned that Ross was working and that his family were securing relief, an information against Mr. and Mrs. Ross was made by County Detective Leslie before Alderman Mantz. Mrs. Ross waived a hearing and Ross skipped out. An indictment was found against Ross by the grand jury, but Mrs. Ross entered a plea of nolle contendere. When the court found that Mrs. Ross did not have a legal residence here, he suspended sentence on the promise of Mrs. Ross to take her children and go back to Westmoreland county, her former home. This she has now done. The indictment still stands against Ross, whose whereabouts is unknown.

County commissioners are holding court of tax appeal today for the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth wards. Tomorrow the work will be finished, when the first, second, third and fourth wards will be heard.

Practically all of the constables of Lawrence county will be entitled to fees, following the decision of Judge W. Walter Braham in the case of Constable Frank Conners, which was in the nature of a test case. All that the constables will have to do will be to certify that they were on duty at the primary and at the general election. Under the old law the constables looked after only one precinct in their district, appointing deputies for the others. It is now presumed that they will have to look after all of them, with the assistance of the sheriff, if needed.

Under the will of the late John Wink of the sixth ward, which has been entered for probate at the register and recorder's office, decedent's sons, William Oliver Wink and Robert James Wink, are left a property at 922 Carson street. Decedent's wife, Vella Wink, is left the proceeds of an insurance policy in the Railway Conductors Relief association of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company.

Schmeling Wins On Technicality In Eighth Round

Referee Art Donovan Stops Fight In Eighth To Save Thomas From Punishment

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Having been on the voluntarily retired list for a year and a half, Max Schmeling indulged in a little batting and fungo practice at Madison Square Garden last night and, all told, it was a superb success, thanks to Harry Thomas of Chicago. Thomas did the fielding.

He covered his position beautifully, being all over, as the boys say. In fact, he was all over the floor seven times in the seventh and eighth rounds, with the result that Referee Arthur Donovan stepped in and called Thomas out, possibly for being hit by a batted ball. It must have been that. No man could have done all that rubber-legging just from being hit with a handful of fingers.

In Eighth Round.

Officially and for the records, the end came from a right uppercut to the body at 2:54 of the eighth round. Actually, it happened as soon as Schmeling really leveled with a straight right to the chin in the seventh, dropping Thomas for the first time in his life as the bell rang, ending the round. After that, he was down six times more in the next three minutes, invariably coming up quickly. As a matter of fact, the only thing faster than that was the way he went down

The whole performance was methodical, calculating and completely destructive. Schmeling, with a strange, mirthless smile—almost of contempt—simply looked 'em over carefully, took a count of three and two; then waited for the "sucker".

Louis Leaves.

There was a crowd of 16,125 present when the fight started. At the finish, this had suddenly dwindled to 16,122. Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis and his co-managers, Black and Roxborough, being headed incontinently up the aisle toward the most convenient exit. It was the first time they'd seen Schmeling since Louis was lying there in the ring, 18 months ago, with his eyes on a line with Schmeling's shoe laces.

The next time they see him—frankly, it's scheduled to be in June with the heavyweight championship at stake. But, after last night, I'm wondering about that, which undoubtedly makes at least two of us. The other probably is Louis.

Northwestern university received an odd present yesterday—a racing stable, consisting of five harness race horses, plus $100,000. The horses and money were left to the university by Mrs. Manlove Rea, art patron, who died last Monday. The gift to Northwestern is contingent upon the university's agreement to employ Mrs. Rea's chauffeur, Axel Boettiger, for 10 years at a salary of $150 a month. College authorities refused to comment on the gifts.

Duquesne basketball team started its season at Pittsburgh last night with a 39 to 34 victory over Wittenberg. Fortney, center, scored 14 points for the winners. Rankin, guard for Wittenberg, got 13 points.

With the Schmeling-Thomas fight out of the way, Schmeling having scored a technical knockout in the eighth round, the next bout of heavyweight prominence will find Braddock and Farr climbing into a New York ring January 21.

Ted Bank of the University of Idaho is among the possible successors to Ccach Harry Kipke, who was released, effective next June, by Michigan U, because of a poor grid season.

Waynesburg college nosed out Geneva in basketball at Beaver Falls last night, 24 to 22. Bill Penn, Waynesburg guard, made a one-handed shot from the side to chalk up the winning field goal.

Ostrosky, Boron, Hnat, Slosnerick, Mateja and several other new players...as you probably have noticed, quite a few of the passers graced the lineups of New Castle high teams of past seasons while some played with class B teams...others are lads who learned the floor game in back of the alley and now play on the real McCoy...the back alley lads are plenty smooth too...the independent situation is expected to be hotly contested with plenty of hair-raising tussles.

Picked up at random...ten lads who formerly wore New Castle high uniforms entered Pitt university after completing their scholastic careers...in football, Paul Reider, Alex Fox, Chuck Fleming, Art Craft, Walter Raskowski, "Zip" Sargeant and Paul Cuba have been tutored by the famous Silent Scot, Dr. Sutherland...Luke Rowe, Francis Wainio and Jimmy Shaeffer took a cut at Pitt basketball...Andy Lasky was an excellent track man...one of the lads of several years back is still there....Alex Fox....an assistant coach.

Archie Shoup, Jr., extra point kicker extraordinary, is regarded as one of the best point converters in the history of Lawrence county athletics... he is a Bessemer high product and will be back next season...he only missed three shots.

You might like to know that...in Springfield, Mass., Dr. James A. Naismith invented the game of basketball...the date, 1891....Sammy Baugh, Washington Redskin gridder, is the best pitcher since the days of Walter Johnson...remember...after 20 years, Colorado Mines finally defeated Colorado State gridsmen...what a victory drought ...at 55, Strangler Lewis is still a major wrestling attraction in Paris ...Sammy Baugh and his Washington Redskinners received $225.90 each for trimming the Bears' hide ...Paul Gehrman, Cincinnati Reds recruit pitcher, is a fireman in Bend, Ore.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Ed

Today the class in lachrymose analysis will take up the cases of athletes who cry . . . there have been several references recently in the public prints to footballers and baseballers with mighty muscles but the hearts of little boys . . . breaking down and wailing all over the place over the loss of a game or a pal or something . . . I can't figure it out myself.

Gerald Walker, for instance. Gerald is the Detroit ball player sold down the river by Mickey Cochrane because his Tigers needed pitchers and could get along without some of the punch at the plate. Incidentally, Walker was swept off his feet when he went to Chicago to sign a contract and found himself valued at $15,000 for one year, more than he ever had received in his life.

But when he arose to address the fans in Saginaw, Mich., Gerald elaborately defended his former boss, declaring the fans were all wrong in blaming Mickey for the trade, because Mickey had traded him away only because the fans had been yelling for pitchers. Walker spoke of his sorrow last summer when he saw Cochrane struck down at the plate by a bean ball. One thing led to another, and finally the outfielder broke down and boohooed.

Tears At Good Old Yale

Capt. Clint Frank of Yale is another case for the class to consider. Captain Frank let go and blubbered copiously when the gridiron hosts of Old Eli were trampled underfoot by Harvard. The Yale leader had been frustrated consistently all afternoon by Harvard tacklers and had watched a fine Yale team crumble before the Crimson onslaught. So he just sat down in front of his locker and cried out loud.

It seems to be a bit easier for the footballer to weep than the baseballer, leading to the belief that the amateur (or semi-pro) performer is closer to tears than the athlete who is openly paid for his work. Ambition, ideals and earnestness of purpose may have something to do with it. Also the fact that the college man is younger and more plastic than the guy who is out there in the cold world with only himself to blame or praise.

It used to be one of the college coach's tricks-in-trade to start a whole dressing room full of perspiring players to moaning about the way things were going. Knute Rockne was a master of this psychology, but instances of locker room emotion have become less common lately. It just got to be old stuff, and the lads generally indicated they were bored by it. Coaches discovered their charges laughing at them, so they changed their act.

It Still Goes On

Though the modern gridder has become more business-like, the old appeal to human sentiment still shakes up a bunch of youngsters now and then. Between the halves of the Purdue-Indiana game this year, several of the Boilermakers bawled a little when their absent coach, Noble Kizer, called on long distance from New Mexico to ask how the split bucks were working. Anyway, Purdue stepped right out there and won the game after receiving an inspiring message from the coach who was forced to go south to fight serious illness.

I'm not calling anybody a cry baby, but the thought suddenly struck me that tears are still common, and I suppose must be construed as evidence of a manly disposition suddenly plunged into sorrow. Anyway, it's "heart-rendering", as my friend O'Goofty used to say.

South High Star In Titan Squad

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 14.—Among the Westminster Titan cagers working for a place in the 'first ten" under Coach Grover Washabaugh is Dan Mamula, 210-pound Titan tackle and one of Washabaugh's South high stars in Pittsburgh.

Mamula was a member of the South high state championship team in 1934. He was a five-letter athlete in high school, playing tackle three years, and active in baseball, basketball and track. He was a winner of the American Legion award for scholarship and leadership; was a student council member, French club president, and class officer.

Speaking five languages, Mamula reads detective stories for diversion. After chalking up a successful game in the last high school game of his scholastic athletic career in shoes laced with new strings, Mamula, believing in hunches, never goes onto the floor for a game without new laces in his shoes.

A major in German, Mamula expects to teach and coach.

Revolta Wins In Golf Tourney At Coral Gables, Fla.

(International News Service)

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Dec. 14.—Johnny Revolta today gave the bird to his fellow golfers professing to be worried over the new 14-club limit. And the young professional from Evanston, Ill., had a right to talk.

In two strokes less than par for the 72 holes, Revolta yesterday captured the $10,000 Miami Biltmore tournament and pocketed the first prize of $2,500, one of golfdom's richest stakes. And he used only 11 clubs to do it.

Commenting on his score of 282 that was only one behind the meet record, Revolta said he didn't feel handicapped by the fewer clubs in his bag. "And it makes the job easier for the caddy," he added.

Revolta's long curling putt on the home green left him with a one stroke advantage over Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee, Pa., and Dick Metz of Chicago, the same lineup as at the end of 54 holes.

Thomson and Metz split second money, taking $1125 each. Sam Snead of White Sulpher Springs, W. Va., landed fourth with a 284 and walked off with $750.

Eckles-Rohrer Tied In Shoot

Eckles and Karl Rohrer were tied with 195's apiece in the semi-weekly shoot of the Nonpareil club at the west side range. In second place was Adams with a 189 string.

The Nonpareil club will stage another club shoot tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the west side garage range.

The scores of the last shoot—Rohrer 195, Eckles 195, Adams 189, Gardner 183, Lindsey 179, Untch 168, Bodendorfer 148.

Getting Ready To Meet Farrell

New Castle High Will Go To Farrell Friday For Second Game Of Year

New Castle high "Red Devils" basketball team is hard at work this week getting ready for the second pre-season game of the year on Friday night that will take them to Farrell for a floor battle.

Encouraged by their victory at Kittanning, the boys are going after the practice sessions this week with a real spirit. There are several merry battles taking place for starting varsity posts.

Same Lineup

It is believed that Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh will start the same line-up that began the Kittanning engagement. Nocera and Koszela will be at the forwards, with Strausbaugh at center, and Ryglinski and Sniezek at the guards.

Others who will see action are: "Buddy" Frazer, Tom Carey, Marvin, Wenda and Bombyk. One redeeming feature of the squad this year, Bridenbaugh can put two teams on the floor that are about equal in ability, and under the new rules, which speed up the game, this is a vital factor.

Johnstown Boy On Titan Squad

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 14.—Among the freshman basketball candidates under Coach Grover Washabaugh is Charles Miller, Johnstown.

Making up for his lack of size among the towering Titans by his speed and aggressive playing, Miller promises to be one of the best prospects in recent years. An excellent ball handler, Miller fits in well with the passing attack stressed by Washabaugh, and although he will probably not enter the starting lineups, should get plenty of last half action. One of an unusually fine group of first-year ball players, Miller should find it easy to make a starting berth on a freshman five, shoud Coach Washabaugh decide on a junior varsity.

A graduate of Westmont high school, Johnstown, Miller played varsity football and basketball for three years, and starred in one of the fastest scholastic groups in central Pennsylvania.

Known as "Curly," Miller is a major in history, and a pledge of Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

Remember last week we stated that skating rinks should be provided within the city limits for the children of New Castle . . . well folks, we are very pleased to make the announcement that everything within the powers of man are being done to make this idea take form . . . there is a skating rink in Mahoningtown . . . made through the efforts of Mr. Mathews of the Water Company and Fire Chief . . . these two men and their organizations have given very freely of their time . . . and folks all this work must be done at night so you see spraying water when it's four above or colder at midnight is not a great deal of fun . . . if the weather keeps cold we are informed that George Washington and Ben Franklin fields will each be made into skating rinks . . . application to the NYA has been made and if the request for boys goes through these skating rinks will be something to be proud of . . . there is no better exercise than skating and those of you who have tried it this year for the first time will agree that you were a little stiff the next day . . . and may we add a little friendly tip . . . when these rinks are under construction will you please keep off and give the men a chance to do their best.

After day is through and you leave the office or wherever you work . . . you have in the back of your head the idea of going home to a warm home and resting before dinner . . . but when you go home you find the house filled with the chatter of women . . . and when they leave the furniture is all out of place . . . now tell me folks what do you do at a time like that . . . yes I know . . . just forget it.

* * *

If you read the society columns and I suppose you do, you will read today of a certain young lady that will take a man from the west as her life mate . . . it seems that some people think the grass is greener on the other side of the fence . . . maybe it is . . . who knows.

* * *

If you read the classified ads you will not be disappointed . . . and also don't forget your Christmas Seals.

Stock Market Firmer Today

Mixed Tendencies Prevail In Initial Dealings, Trend Is Upward

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—The stock market became firmer today after a dull and irregular start, leaders regaining a point or so of yesterday's 1 to 5 point reaction. Gains were cut later, however.

However, movements were robbed of their significance by the extremely limited volume of trading. Pivotal stocks moved within a range of little more than a point.

Mixed tendencies predominated in initial dealings, but the trend was upward through the remainder of the first hour. When gains had reached a point or more in the leaders, light profit taking made its appearance and advances were reduced appreciably.

Steels, coppers, aviations and rail equipments were pacemakers on the modest recovery. Rails and oils also were generally above previous closing levels.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem each were up more than a point at one time. Similar gains, at their tops, were shown by Chrysler in the motors; American Smelting in the coppers; Owens-Illinois Glass; Pullman in the rail equipments; Douglas, Boeing and United Aircraft in the aviations; Sears Roebuck in the mail orders; American Tobacco "B" and American Can.

General Motors was backward through the forenoon, as were Deere in the farm implements, Allied Chemical, off 2 points, Woolworth and some of the rubber shares.

Commodities were featured by a rise of almost 50 cents a bale in cotton futures. Wheat led grains downward. Bonds displayed an easier undertone.

American shares abroad were dull.

Miss Helen Hall is president of the National Federation of Settlements, and head worker of the Henry Street Settlement in New York City.
